Hub is up and running

THE new Hub youth club in Lyme Regis officially opened its doors for an activity-packed programme on Saturday.

Although youngsters have been enjoying youth cafe sessions at the club for several months, the Mayor of Lyme Regis, Councillor Sally Holman, officially declared The Hub open on Saturday in a ribbon cutting ceremony.

by Francesca Evans

francesca@pemedial.co.uk

The club was open all day to young people, parents and members of the local community, keen to see what changes had been made to the former Boys' Club in Church Street.

Activities included music workshops, sports workshops, a majorettes display, arts and crafts and a gymnastics display.

The Hub, now owned by Lyme Regis Development Trust, recently secured £60,000 of funding from Lyme Regis Town Council and, after winning a further £60,000 grant from the Jubilee People's Millions competition, extensive repairs of the roof were completed.

Refurbishment is continuing to get the facility up to scratch and young people suggested what they would like to see changed on Saturday. One of the next major projects will be to replace the stage.

Changes have also been made to the entrance to make the club accessible for all, and a further planning application to adapt the front gate for disabled access has recently been approved, as well as an application for solar panning.

Development trust chief executive Marcus Dixon said: "It was a fantastic day and wonderful to see

HANNAH Garner has always enjoyed getting a 'pizza-the-action' and no more so than now she is working at 'The Stable' pizza and cider restaurant in Weymouth.

The restaurant opened by the harbour in Weymouth 10 weeks ago and is already proving to be very popular.

Hannah has always enjoyed working with the general public and has done a number of interesting jobs which led her all over the country, but eventually brought her back to Dorset.

Besides her new job, Hannah is enjoying being back beside the seaside and she also loves playing and hearing live music.

Hannah is 26 years old and lives in Weymouth.

■ WHAT kind of jobs have you been doing?

I originally moved straight to London after doing a degree at Southampton University because it was the ideal place for getting into the music industry, which is what I thought I wanted to do. I did some work experience at Ninja Tune - one of my favourite record labels. I also did piano teaching, bar work, work for music listing companies, work with disabled students... then I started working on a market stall in Broadway market selling bread.

In my holidays I used to work at music festivals for Tom Hunt's catering business, 'The Shisha Lounge'. All this experience led me towards events management work for a clothing company in Leicestershire. Doing events meant I got to travel round the whole country selling clothes at different venues and all my festival experience came in really useful.

■ SO WHY did you come back to Weymouth?

After a number of years of that lifestyle, I realised I'd had enough of travelling round and when a job came up at The Stable in Weymouth I thought that was the ideal opportunity to get more settled whilst still doing the sort of work I enjoy.

■ WHAT is it about you that makes you particularly good at that type of work?

Meeting new people and enjoying new experiences. Then there's the sale element - it's important to be passionate about what you are selling, which is why I left the clothing company. I realised the industry wasn't quite right for me.

■ SO are you passionate about pizza?

Yes! And I like the way the business is run. I like the people who set it up and I like the way it's a family run business and that everything is original and simple but it works - nothing too complicated.

It's about making sure everything is of a high quality, and something that you can really believe in, so when someone asks: 'What's so great about your pizzas?' we can say with conviction that it's because we use organic ingredients and local suppliers, and that even the dough is made to our own recipe, by hand right here in Weymouth. You can watch the chefs preparing everything from scratch - it's just a great atmosphere to be working in as well.

■ WHAT else is on the menu besides pizza?

Pies... local pies like the Dorset Oggie. There are also salads and desserts - you can even have a Nutella and mascarpone pizza as a dessert. And of course there are lots of different ciders, at the moment I think there are about 64 different ones to choose from.

■ DO you have a favourite pizza?

All of them! I couldn't have a favourite because they're all delicious. This week I've been mostly eating the Bucky Doo which is a vegetarian pizza- although I'm not actually vegetarian.

■ AND what other interests have you got?

My previous job gave me a fishing rod when I left so I've been out a couple of times with that! I love the sea and as soon as it gets a bit warmer I'll be jumping in before I start work each morning.

I'm really into music - my parents have Bridport Music on South Street - and I try to go to lots of gigs, although I haven't been to any since I've been back down here.

I also play the piano and the flute, something which I've done for most of my life.

■ WHICH three famous people would you like to invite to dinner and what would you eat?

I'd have pie with Ferne Cotton because she looks like she needs a pie or two, and she's quite good fun.

I'd have a salad with James Cordon because he's a little bit fat but he's hilarious and he's my secret crush.

And I'd have a pizza with the person who set up Pizza Hut so I could show them what a proper pizza should be like!

Survey confirms need for skatepark

A COMPREHENSIVE consultation exercise with the young people of Lyme Regis and district has underlined the need for a skatepark.

The process was carried out between November and February in the form of a questionnaire distributed at St Michael's Primary School, the Woodroffe School, The Hub youth club, LymeNET, Charmouth Primary School and other primary schools in the area.

The questionnaires were put together by a sub-group of Lyme Regis Town Council's Skatepark Working Group consisting of Councillor Lucy Campbell, the driving force behind the skatepark project, Ellen Austin from LymeForward and county youth worker Harry Warren.

The results of the survey were presented to the council's Strategy and Policy Committee in a report by Councillor Campbell who said she was "really pleased" that there was a total of 668 responses to the questionnaire.

Some of the key responses included:

by Philip Evans
philip@pemedia.co.uk

- ◆ Of those who responded 59% were aged 13-17, 33% were 9-12 and 5% were 5-8 years.
- ◆ 86% lived within a 10-mile radius on Lyme Regis; 11% within a 20-mile radius.
- ◆ 84% said they wanted a skatepark.
- ◆ Of the 84% that said yes to a skatepark, 56% said they would use it (313); 44% said they wouldn't.
- ◆ Of the 313 individuals who said they would use it, 90% lived within a 10-mile radius of Lyme.
- ◆ 55% said they visited other skateparks, the most popular being Seaton, Bridport and Axminster.
- ◆ 61% said they would use the skatepark once a week.
- ◆ 71% said they would use the skatepark in the afternoons; 25% in the evening and 9% in the morning.

After presenting the report, Councillor Campbell told the committee that those who responded to the survey represented a good cross section of the young people in the Lyme Regis area.

Councillor Terry O'Grady congratulated Councillor Campbell on "an excellent report".

Councillor Daryl Turner thought the format of the questionnaire was "absolutely brilliant" but wondered why there was not a question about location.

Councillor Campbell replied that there was no choice over location. The proposed site at the Charmouth Road car park was the only one available. Every other suggestion had been turned down by the town or district council.

Councillor Turner said some of the other suggestions were turned down by the old town council but they now had new members.

Councillor Campbell said the next rung on the ladder was to come back to the council with designs and costings and there would be further consultation with the young people on this. Councillor O'Grady was fronting a fundraising group and there was "a lot going on in the background".

Councillor Michaela Ellis asked how the funding was going.

Councillor Campbell replied that there was £17,000 in the pot and the council had agreed to give £25,000 out of surpluses every year for the next three years.

Councillor Ellis said it was important that the skateboarders were seen to be raising money themselves because they would earn the respect of the public.

At a previous meeting Councillor Campbell reported that the project could cost between £100,000 and £150,000.

RIGHT: Lucy Campbell - pleased with number of responses

Town meeting clash over council staff

A COUNCILLOR was denied access to the employment file of a council employee on long-term sick leave, it was alleged at last week's annual town meeting.

Resident and former town council employee Derek Hallett drew attention to a number of issues involving disputes with staff.

The Mayor, Councillor Sally Holman, interrupted Mr Hallett and told him it was not council policy to discuss staffing matters in public.

But Mr Hallett refused to sit down, pointing out that it was a meeting of town electors and that it was the electors who paid the council wages.

Mr Hallett asked if any councillor wanted to comment on the staffing issues.

New councillor George Symonds said the council staffing problems were a concern to him.

He told the meeting: "I have asked to see the work folder of a staff member on long-term sick leave only to be told that I could not have access to it. I was referred to standing orders which states that only line managers shall have access to employee records.

"The mayor could have given permission as leader of the council but she refused."

Councillor Symonds said the council staff were now playing "catch-up" because of staff either on sick leave or not turning up for work and he called for an urgent review of all staffing procedures.

"I was elected to represent the views of Lyme Regis electorate but I feel I am being blocked from doing this," he said.

RNLI's record £55k total

AN all-time record fundraising total for the past year was revealed at Monday's annual meeting of the Lyme Regis and Charmouth RNLI Guild.

Members were told that the total raised, including Lifeboat Week, was just under £55,000.

Chairman Rob Michael said 2011 had been "by far the best year ever and Lifeboat Week was exceptional".

This year, he said, another packed Lifeboat Week was planned with many highlights including the Red Arrows, the RAF Falcons, the Red Bull Matadors and a special ceremony to name and dedicate the town's new lifeboat.

Another major fundraiser for the past year was the RNLI gift shop on the Cobb. Manager Brian Cursley reported that shop sales had risen to £155,760, an increase of more than 22 per cent on 2010.

He went on to single out some top sellers, including 7,784 packs of Christmas cards, 2,178 calendars and 190 boxes of the new Lyme Regis jigsaw.

The harbour-side shop, run by 40 volunteers, had the highest turnover in the South West and was the second most successful RNLI outlet in the UK.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Elliott Dale from the Corinthian rowing team that took part in the gruelling Atlantic Challenge earlier this year. He spoke on his team's 48 days at sea, which saw them placed in sixth.

He told how three of the rowers lost nine stones between them, climbed a 60 feet wave, lost two oars, toasted Christmas Day in the Atlantic with a glass of wine, and still remained friends after the race!

At the end of the meeting a presentation was made to retiring committee member David Gallier who for seven years has organised many of the military events for Lifeboat Week, including the Red Arrows and the RAF Falcons. Richard Cunningham is taking over the role.

Busy start for new lifeboat

LYME Regis lifeboat crew have been putting their new "Spirit of Loch Fyne" boat to good use, with three call-outs in a week.

Last Sunday (April 15th) the crew were called out after reports of two paragliders in difficulty between Abbotsbury and West Bexington, which turned out to be anglers kite fishing.

The lifeboat was launched at 3pm on request of the coastguards but at 3.20pm it was confirmed the sighting was not of paragliders but anglers. The crew arrived on the scene at 3.21pm and were stood down.

■ ON Wednesday, the crew were launched after walkers on Marine Parade reported a swimmer in difficulty off Cobb Gate.

The crew were launched at 7.59am and, on arrival, found that one swimmer had safely made their way ashore. A second swimmer was still in the water but not in difficulty.

■ TWO men in a broken down speedboat became the first people to be actually rescued by the new boat on Sunday (April 22nd).

The lifeboat crew were on a training exercise when the alarm was raised by the men aboard the 14 feet speedboat off Haven Cliffs, near Axmouth.

Richard Pearce, aged 60, and his 25-year-old son Tom, of Meadows Road, Seaton, said they had owned the boat for only a week and were on their first trip when the engine failed.

The speedboat was towed by the lifeboat to Lyme Regis harbour. The two men were returned to safety aboard the lifeboat.

Council to reconsider shelters hiring hours

TOWN councillors have questioned the hours in which areas of the Marine Parade shelters in Lyme Regis can be hired.

The issue was raised by Councillor Terry O'Grady at last week's meeting of Lyme Regis Town Council. Councillor O'Grady said he had heard that the shelters could not be hired after 8pm, which he did not think had been agreed by the council.

Town clerk Mike Lewis said they did not have the staff to lock up the shelters late at night.

Councillor Michaela Ellis said this was a "fault of the council", adding that her previous suggestion of hiring a caretaker for the shelters would mean they could be open all hours.

Councillor O'Grady said: "If people can hire it over the weekend and return the keys on Monday why can't they keep them overnight?"

The issue was referred to the next Strategy and Policy Committee meeting.

New housing policy

A NEW county-wide housing allocation policy has been introduced in Dorset, but town councillors are unsure how it will affect affordable house-hunters in Lyme Regis.

Speaking at last week's Lyme Regis Town Council meeting, district councillor Daryl Turner announced the new joint policy between five authorities in Dorset had been launched and he would be able to give more details on it soon.

Councillor Barbara Austin asked what the policy included on housing allocation, adding: "Lyme Regis has been dealt very badly with local people being allocated local housing."

Councillor Turner said: "The local issue was my main question to West Dorset. What is local? But these answers have not come back to me yet."

Councillor Austin said she was sure Councillor Turner would "fight for Lyme's corner".

Councillor Turner said he would report back soon.

Council will 'fight to the end' for footpath

A LYME Regis councillor has said she hopes the town council will "fight to the end" to re-open Tenerife Path.

Councillor Anita Williams, chairman of the town's Planning and Highways Committee, made the statement at last week's full council meeting.

Councillors were asked to agree to the hiring of a specialist barrister to move forward the case of re-opening Tenerife Path, which joins Marine Parade with Broad Street and has been closed behind a private property since the 1980s. The barrister would advise on what evidence was needed for the case and then proceed to represent the town council at a public inquiry.

Councillor Daryl Turner was concerned that a set cost for the barrister, previously mentioned in confidential documents, should be agreed on.

Councillor Mark Gage said he did not think that was necessary, adding: "This proposal shows that Lyme Regis Town Council will stick up for the access rights of the people of this town and will not have rights of way blocked."

Councillor Turner said he agreed but the council had a "limited bucket" and was "very tight on money".

Councillor Williams said she agreed but hoped the council would "fight to the end" to re-open the path, to which councillors nodded in agreement.

Councillors agreed upon the set cost mentioned in confidential documents.

Rotary Club joins annual beach clean

THE Mayor of Lyme Regis and local Rotarians were among those taking part in the Great Dorset Beach Clean on Sunday, April 15th. This was the 23rd annual beach clean, with the team in Lyme Regis collecting over 20 large bags of rubbish, including plastic, glass, nets, fishing lines and even an eight metre long nylon rope, which required five people to carry it off the beach. Rotarian John McCallum said: "The Rotary Club of Lyme Regis has been helping with the beach clean for most of the 23 years it has taken place in the town. It's good fun and has a worthwhile environmental objective. Well done to all who helped out this year, our beaches are cleaner and safer for your efforts."

Councillor clears up 'imaginative' job application rumours

TOWN councillor Mark Gage has quashed rumours that he applied for a new council job.

Rumours circulated Lyme Regis last week that Councillor Gage had applied for the new position of council works supervisor - a position which he voted to create with a salary of £22-£26,000.

After a comment in the View From Lyme Regis "Lyme Matters" column, Councillor George Symonds asked Councillor Gage if the rumours were true at last week's full council meeting.

Councillor Gage said: "I take it you're referring to the editorial in one of our more colourful newspapers. No I did not apply for the job. I would not be in a position to do so and don't think I even have the required skills for that job."

"I do appreciate our local press, especially the more imaginative content."

Elected members are not allowed to apply for council jobs while sitting on the council or for at least a year after standing down.

See Lyme Matters on page 12

Planning applications spark fears of another road closure

A LYME Regis town councillor has objected to the idea of another road closure in Church Street, following the approval of two planning applications at The Hub youth club.

Planning consent has recently been granted for The Hub to install solar panels on its roof and make changes to the entrance to allow for disabled access.

Speaking at last week's Lyme Regis Town Council meeting, Councillor Barbara Austin asked why the solar panning could not have been done at the same time as the recent roof repairs, which saw Church Street closed for six weeks, adding that she would not like to see it closed again.

Councillor Terry O'Grady explained that funding was not available at the time. He also referred to an article in last week's View From Lyme Regis, in which chief executive of Lyme Regis Development Trust, Marcus Dixon, stated that there were no immediate plans to install the panels or close the road, and this was just an "option for the future".

Councillor O'Grady added that he would also not like to see Church Street closed again in the near future.

Councillor Austin also asked why the address on the two planning applications was listed as Lyme Regis Boys' Club, when it had been changed to Lyme Regis Club for Young People several years ago and more recently to The Hub.

Councillor O'Grady said this was still the address listed on the post code.

Gig club asks for council's support in finding more space at Monmouth Beach

VICE-president of Lyme Regis Gig Club, Ken Whetlor, as asked the town council to support the club by providing more space for storage at Monmouth Beach.

Former town councillor Mr Whetlor used the public forum of last week's full council meeting to ask what progress had been made since the club's chairman wrote to councillors to ask for more storage space at Monmouth Beach, which would "enable the club to grow".

The gig club already uses two parking spaces and a boathouse at Monmouth Beach, but Mr Whetlor said more space was needed for the expanding club, which will launch its third wooden gig this summer.

He said: "Lyme Regis Gig Club was launched just over five years ago and in that time has grown rapidly with three wooden Cornish Pilot Gigs, a fibreglass boat, a safety

LYME REGIS TOWN COUNCIL
by Francesca Evans
francesca@pemedial.co.uk

boat, a boathouse, trolleys, trailers and lots of other equipment.

"The club has grown quickly too and there are over 100 rowing members, social members and a fast-developing youth section.

"Lyme Regis does not have a dedicated sports centre and the gig club offers an easy way for people to take part in the healthy sport of sea rowing, as a way of keeping fit, for recreation and to compete in what is the South West's fastest growing marine sport."

Mr Whetlor said he had hoped the council would "press ahead" with the idea to align the beach huts with those at the Cobb end of Monmouth Beach, which would create space for a second boathouse. The town council previously submitted a planning application for this but was advised to withdraw it after Natural England objected on the grounds of protecting the scaly cricket species which lives in the area.

Mr Whetlor continued: "It would seem that the town council has chosen instead to kowtow to the instructions of the quango Natural England, who put the interests of the crickets, who may hop about on the beach, before those of local people.

"I do hope that Lyme Regis Town Council recognises the value of the town's gig club as a sporting opportunity for local people and generating income for businesses down at the Cobb, and will continue to look at ways that space can be found for an additional storage shed.

"The town council has found ways to support the sailing club, power boat club and the bowls club. I would like to think that you could do the same for the gig club."

The town clerk Mike Lewis has stated that there are no immediate plans to submit a second planning application to align the beach huts and provide a second boathouse.

Later in the meeting, councillors agreed to extend the licenses to the gig club for the two parking spaces and boathouse at Monmouth Beach until March 31st 2015. The council is expected to set a fee for these licenses shortly, having previously offered the space for free.

The town clerk said he was keen to get the licenses on a "more formal" and legal footing.

Official congratulations for Lyme's sporting stars

LYME Regis Football Club has been offered the official congratulations of the mayor and town councillors for their successful season.

The past season has seen the club win five cups and the First Team come top of the Perry Street League Premier Division. It is the first time all three of the club's teams have won a cup in the same season.

Speaking at last week's Lyme Regis Town Council meeting, the Mayor, Councillor Sally Holman, offered her congratulations.

Councillor Terry O'Grady listed the Seasiders' achievements, adding: "I think you will all agree it has been a fantastic season for the club and something the town should be very, very proud of. Well done Lyme Regis Football Club."

Councillor O'Grady added that he was keen for the football club to feature prominently in the Olympic parade on July 12th, which will be led by the Corinthian rowers and which all local sporting organisations are being invited to take part in.

Councillors also offered their formal congratulations to the Corinthians at last week's meeting, following their completion of the world's toughest rowing race - the Atlantic Challenge - earlier this year.

As well as leading the parade on July 12th after the Olympic torch has passed through the town, the Corinthians will also have a plaque in their honour unveiled in the Marine Parade shelters and their Atlantic Challenge boat will be on display.

It's Pimm's O'Clock in Uplyme!

LOCAL fundraising duo Lucy Coombe and Jess Chaple are organising another charity ball in Uplyme in aid of FORCE Cancer Charity.

This is the third time Jess had organised the ball and the second time for Lucy, with this year's theme being Pimm's O'Clock.

Guests will receive a free glass of Pimm's on arrival, a buffet, live music from Delta Tango 7 followed by Fluxy's Disco. Other attractions will include a chocolate fountain and grand draw with top prizes from Axminster Carpets, Axminster Power Tools, In The Pink, Mole Avon, Yeovil Town FC (two tickets to any game in the season), Southampton FC (stadium tour for two), and a print from local photographer Ben Buller.

In 2010 the girls raised £4,600 at their Winter Ball and are hoping to top the £5,000 mark at this year's.

Jess said: "It's a local charity close to our hearts as we have both lost close family members to cancer. The work FORCE does is absolutely fantastic, so we hope to smash the total we raised for them two years ago."

The ball will be held at Uplyme Village Hall on Saturday, May 5th starting at 7.30pm.

Tickets costing £25 each can be purchased Travis Perkins in Lyme Regis, and Reflections and Beviss & Beckingsale in Axminster.

The 27-year-old man from Lyme Regis was later charged with assault by beating and is due to appear at Weymouth Magistrates court on the May 1st at 2pm.

■ A 43-year-old woman from Lyme Regis was arrested for shoplifting meat from a supermarket.

Just before 6.30pm on April 23rd the woman was arrested for theft from Morrisons in Bridport. She was later issued with a police caution.

Shooting range gets the go ahead

by Francesca Evans
and Trevor Bevins

PLANS for a new 100 metre shooting range at The Tunnel Target Sports Centre, near Charmouth, have been given the final go ahead.

Last week, the View From Lyme Regis reported on the planning application at The Tunnel, formerly part of the A35 trunk road, which had sparked concerns with neighbours at Thistlegate House residential home.

Owner of the nursing home and next door Thistlegate Lodge holiday let, John Corney, was concerned the shooting range would be a risk to the surrounding area, offering anti-terrorist, military-style training - a claim strongly refuted by The Tunnel's owner, Richard Clist.

Speaking at last week's meeting of West Dorset District Council's Development Control Committee, Mr Corney said: "We will feel vulnerable within 50 yards or so. We will fear that terrorists could be booking into the Lodge. This facility should be within a secure military compound and not operated here as a commercial business."

"Once the range is here there will be no control over what is used in it and what type of weapons.

This proposal is wholly inappropriate in this area."

A second objector, Norman Jones, was concerned about the scale of the development and the use of the new building.

He said: "This is out of all proportion to The Tunnel's original concept for small bore and pistols."

He said that with 4,000 delegates being talked about the scale of the operation "would not be appropriate for what, essentially, is a tourist area on the Jurassic Coast", adding that he feared it would lead to parking problems.

"This use is better suited to a military establishment with the necessary security measures," he concluded.

In regards to noise concerns, councillors who visited the site while firing was taking place each said they had problems hearing gunfire above the noise of the traffic from the A35 and were told that if the noise did become worse after the application was approved the council's environmental health team would investigate and take "appropriate measures".

Councillor Sewell said the scheme would "enhance employment in the area".

Councillor Robin Legg added: "We were impressed by the security when we were there but, of course, security is a matter for the Home Office and the police and they are happy with the proposal."

The application was approved unanimously and, as well as the 100 metre range, will include an armory, disabled toilets and a function/lecture room, adding to the current facilities of 25 metre and 50 metre ranges and a cafe.

Success for local pistol squad

THE South West Region Pistol Squad (SWRPS), based at The Tunnel Target Sports Centre near Charmouth, celebrates its first birthday this month and some impressive achievements.

After being founded in September 2010 following the opening of The Tunnel, training started in May 2011. Since then, three athletes have been promoted to the Team England Academy, including Simon Gibbard, Philippa Bale and most recently Michael Bailey.

Michael, who has been shooting with the squad since it started, said he was "very pleased" to be offered the chance to train at the national level and hoped to be considered for the national squad in the future.

Other successes for SWRPS include members achieving Team GB status in the pentathlon and many others winning shooting competitions and beating personal bests.

Head pistol coach Chris Mason said: "Our hardworking athletes thoroughly deserve their successes. However this would not be possible without the excellent efforts of the SWRPS Coaching Team and our splendid sponsors."

He explained that the squad was now incorporating rifle shooting and would be changing its name to the South West Rifle and Pistol Squad.

Mr Mason continued: "The future is very exciting with the expansion of our home range, The Tunnel Target Sports Centre in Charmouth, which is undergoing a build of a new 100 metre range (see above) that will bring forth new opportunities and more firing points for training and competition."

SWRPS is about to have the highest proportion of National Smallbore Rifle Association county coaches of any regional squad, with Mr Mason already being qualified, and Doug Forsyth and Andy Hill currently undergoing county coach assessment.

Mr Mason concluded: "SWRPS is very fortunate to have such dedicated talents at the helm to coach and guide our athletes."

'Hear Here' show to capture life in Lyme Regis through music and art

LYME Regis-based youth music group, B Sharp, will present the culmination of an eight week project at The Hub youth club on Friday, April 27th.

"Hear Here" is a collection of works capturing life in Lyme Regis and the surrounding area as young people see and hear it. Workshops have been running for eight weeks where young people have been working with visual artists and music leaders, collecting sound and visual material.

The show at The Hub will include a hands-on interactive installation and exhibition. People of all ages are invited to come and have a go at making their own soundscapes and visual projections, view pictures, listen to stories of local people and share ideas while talking with young people and artists about the work, starting at 6pm.

This will be followed at 8.30pm with a performance of soundscapes, song and visual projections.

The "Hear Here" project has been a collaborative venture. B Sharp trainees and participants have had the opportunity to work alongside professional musicians Glyn Bush and Ralph Cree, and artist Andy Hawthorne.

■ EXPLORING LYME'S HERITAGE: B Sharp trainees Dom Kirtley and Angus Johnstone interview local boatsman Roy Gollop on the Cobb for the 'Hear Here' project

Local boatsman Roy Gollop is one of the characters featured in the exhibition. Mr Gollop was interviewed by B Sharp trainee Dom Kirtley and filmed by graduate cameraman and director, Angus Johnstone, from Charnmouth.

Dom said: "I found interviewing Roy very interesting. When preparing for what I saw as chance to capture some sound to work with for the project, I seemed to overlook the fact that he had so many fascinating stories about the Lyme Regis I'd never seen or heard of.

"I was amazed by the stories of wartime Lyme and the changes that the town has undergone physically and socially since then. For example, I'd never realised that Cobb Gate and the Cobb were two segregated fishing communities!

"The day was very interesting and after listening through the interview again we have some fantastic story-telling to weave into the soundscape of the project."

Project leader Fran Williams said: "This project has brought different individuals and groups of young people together, as well as with older members of the community, while exploring our culture, heritage and local identity in different mediums.

"It's been a creative journey; a short, small, action-packed project with ideas flowing and ceaseless opportunities for young people to creatively express themselves and develop skills and interests."

ArtsFest organisers looking ahead to 2013 with exciting new project

ORGANISERS of Lyme Regis ArtsFest are not only putting together the final plans for this year's 10th anniversary festival, but are also looking ahead to 2013.

They are putting together a new and exciting initiative for all artists, writers, performers, craftspeople, photographers and musicians called "Re:collection".

Conceived by ArtsFest creative directors, Karol Kulik and Christine Allison, "Re:collection" is a year-long project about inspiration, ideas and creation based around Lyme Regis Museum.

Ms Allison said: "That wonderful gem of a place nestled in the heart of our town holds an array of artefacts in all shapes and forms. These collectively record our Lyme Regis history, geology, folklore, domestic life, sea life, famous and infamous residents and more.

"Each exhibit has its own story to tell. If one exhibit could ignite a creative spark in an artist, what would be the outcome? A painting, a sketchbook, a book of poems, a drama, a dance, a piece of music, a film, a series of photographs, an animation, an embroidery, a sculpture, a happening, a book, a workshop – the list is only limited by your imagination."

"Go to the museum and look with new eyes. Find something that makes you curious, use it as springboard for ideas and get the creative juices flowing."

The project has already spawned some interesting proposals, and ArtsFest will be seeking funding for the more ambitious projects that require substantial budgets.

"Re:collection" will be formally launched at ArtsFest 2012, and all artists' work will need to be completed by September 2013, culminating in a group show at the Town Mill Malthouse and other suitable venues in the town.

Artists of all disciplines, individuals or groups interested in taking part are urged to visit the museum now and email their ideas and plans as soon as possible to karol@karolkulik.com

■ BREAK IN THE RAIN: The sun came out just in time for the Mayor, Councillor Sally Holman, to bowl the traditional first wood of the season

Brollies at the ready as Mayor opens bowls season after hail

LYME Regis Bowls Club opened its 75th anniversary season with a white lawn after a torrential hail storm.

As weather deteriorated on Saturday, the opening match was about to be called off just before the sun came out, so teams were hastily put together for an impromptu friendly.

Keeping with tradition, the Mayor of Lyme Regis, Councillor Sally Holman, had her brolly at the ready to bowl the first wood. The mayor was quick to show off her skills, bowling straight to the jack.

To mark its 75th anniversary, the club will hold an open day on Sunday, May 6th, where members hope to share a sociable game with new recruits of all ages.

Both the men and ladies teams will be looking to remain in the top flight of the county league this year.

A compliment by any other name...

A T a council meeting last week this newspaper was described as "colourful" with "imaginative" content.

The words came from Strategy and Policy Committee chairman, Mark Gage, arguably the most powerful member of the council and highly respected by the newly-elected members.

His description of the View was not intended to be a compliment.

Councillor Gage was prompted to stray into such euphemisms by a direct if not tongue-in-cheek question from fellow new councillor George Symonds who asked him: "Did you apply for the council's works supervisor job?"

◆ THE Hub is open. Long live The Hub!

After all the frustrations in securing the building, the worry of finding the money and the bad publicity when a few over-zealous youngsters ruined the first opening nights, all was forgotten at Saturday's official opening by the

Lyme Matters

by Philip Evans

Councillor Gage emphatically denied that he had, pointing out that he did not have the skills for such a post (salary £22k-£26k) which has still to be filled.

He assumed that Councillor Symonds was asking the question following a piece that appeared in this column when I commented on a rumour rife at the mayor's civic night that a senior councillor had enquired about applying for the post.

But if Councillor Gage cares to read that piece again he will see that I did not name him as the prospective job-seeker and, indeed, said I did not believe it either. And I went on to explain that it couldn't happen in any case as a councillor has to be off the council for at least a year before he or she could work for the authority.

There was no intimidation, direct or otherwise, that Councillor Gage was interested in the job. Why would he be when he is clearly the rising talent in the new-look council with an increasing influence over his fellow councillors?

Councillor Lucy Campbell was also upset with this newspaper after a comment from a reader, Geoff Mann, one of the founders of the Lyme Regis Development Trust, who questioned whether LymeForward, set up by the trust, should "hold the purse strings" if a Community Land Trust was established in Lyme Regis.

She said she was tired of being attacked in the local press (i.e. the View) in this "passive but aggressive" manner. Mr Mann's comments were far from "an attack" and certainly not aggressive; all he did was to highlight her comment that it would be a "waste of resource" not to use LymeForward in the setting up of a land trust.

Mr Mann's letter is answered fully elsewhere in this issue by development trust chairman

Wendy Davies.

We encourage our readers to express their views but they are not necessarily those of this newspaper and contrary to the opinion of some members of the trust, I don't publish every letter that Geoff Mann sends to me. Probably just one in six makes it into our columns.

I decided to publish this particular letter because Mr Mann was not the only person to question LymeForward's involvement in the land trust. At a previous meeting district councillor Daryl Turner suggested that the people of Lyme should be consulted on "who holds the purse strings".

Lucy Campbell is the youngest member of the council and did not have it easy when she was first elected. In fact, she was treated quite disgracefully by some members when she first took her seat but won great support from this column in her efforts to bring a fresh, younger perspective to council affairs.

But having been a member now for six years she holds a much more influential position as vice-chairman of the all-powerful Strategy and Policy Committee and is now a combative debater on all the main issues, one of the most prolific and eloquent speakers in the council chamber, as well as fronting one of the council's leading projects, the delivery of a skateboard park which generates strong opinions on both sides.

With a much higher profile in the new council comes greater scrutiny and accountability, not necessarily by this newspaper but by the electorate.

In the last election Lucy topped the town council poll and she should draw great confidence from this when public opinion is sometimes out of kilter with her own views.

In local government you cannot win every battle. The secret is to win the big ones. And if she delivers a skatepark in the life of this council, that will be a massive one.

■ ONE job that all mayors detest is chairing the annual town meeting. It's the one occasion the electorate get to air their grievances and complaints and there's been some very lively and uncomfortable meetings over the years.

It's where the council committee chairmen give a review of their work, which is usually very boring and no one takes much notice.

The interesting bit comes when the meeting is thrown open to the floor.

Last Friday's annual meeting ran true to form with mayor Sally Holman being given a particularly hard time on staffing matters (usually a taboo subject at public meetings). Resident Derek Hallett refused to sit down when asked by the mayor and new councillor George Symonds also stood his ground on the same subject.

The meeting was attended by just 22 members of the electorate in addition to councillors and officials. That's less than one per cent of the voting public.

Such a poor attendance means that, generally speaking, the electorate is pleased with how the council is running the town... or they couldn't care less.

I suspect it's the latter.

■ CONGRATULATIONS to Fran Williams and Ayvin Rogers on being invited to a garden party at Buckingham Palace in the summer.

They received their invitation in this special royal year for all their hard work in securing the funding from the Jubilee People's Millions for The Hub youth club. Few will know or appreciate how much work Fran and Ayvin put into the project. They deserve this recognition.

If my experience last year when my family and I were invited to a similar event is anything to go by, it will be a day they will never forget.

Seafront internet connection could be lasting legacy for Fossil Festival

ORGANISERS of the upcoming Lyme Regis Fossil Festival hope to leave a lasting legacy on the town in the form of a wireless internet connection along the seafront.

Lyme Regis Development Trust, which will host the festival between May 4th to 6th, has been working with experts on the guifi.net project in Barcelona, which uses long-distance WiFi links to connect more remote communities to the internet.

The temporary connection will be in place for this year's festival, available in the grand marquee on the shingle beach and along Monmouth Beach, where locals and visitors will be able to use their smart phones and other internet devices to learn about the Jurassic Coast in new and unique ways.

Development trust chief executive, Marcus Dixon, explained: "This type of long distance connection solves our problem of sharing internet access from buildings along the seafront with users both in the Fossil Festival marquee and using the digital tools we have developed on the beach.

by Francesca Evans
francesca@pemedial.co.uk

"Long distance antennae are used to connect the buildings' internet access with mobile base stations in the marquee and on the beach. These base stations then use a standard WiFi router to share their incoming connection with nearby wireless devices."

As the development trust will own the equipment, they hope to eventually provide a lasting legacy in the form of a permanent wireless connection to benefit the town.

The wireless connection will allow visitors to the festival to use two new digital apps the trust have also been working on. These are the Jurassic Coast Augmented Reality app and the Bio Blitz app, which includes digital geological maps of Lyme Regis.

Bumper fossil event in Charmouth

CHARMOUTH'S free community magazine, Shoreline, will be hosting its second fossil event on Wednesday, May 16th as part of the Jurassic Coast Earth Festival.

Speakers will include Professor Denys Brunsden, palaeontologist David Sole, Jurassic Coast Team Earth Science Manager Richard Edmonds and Dorset Coastal Zone Projects Manager for the National Trust, Tony Flux.

Local palaeontologists and some of the speakers will bring along their local fossil finds and will be available to answer questions. Several archive films of early fossil hunting in Charmouth and the well-known fossil hunter Barney Hansford will be screened during the evening. Barney's granddaughter Davina will also bring some of his early fossil finds and related vintage items for display.

Geologist and artist Geoff Townson will display his cliff section paintings and a series of photographs he has taken over the last ten years of the Evans Cliff landslip, and Charmouth Heritage Coast Centre will provide a fossil-related display.

Shoreline's second publication, "Charmouth Through the Generations", will be launched during the evening. It relates the story of five generations of the well-known Hansford family and, in particular, Barney Hansford, whose Fossil and Country Life Exhibition in Charmouth attracted world-wide attention between 1976 and 1986.

The event will be held at Charmouth Community Hall on Lower Sea Lane at 7pm. Tickets costing £4 or free for under 16s are available from Fortnam, Smith & Banwell's Charmouth office. Tickets can also be bought for £5 on the door.

■ DIAMOND DAYS: Mr and Mrs Kelland cut their 60th wedding anniversary cake, accompanied by daughter Linda and son David and their partners, watched by members of the Lyme Regis Sequence Dance Club

Still dancing after 60 years

AN AXMINSTER couple who met at a dance are still dancing after 60 years of marriage - an occasion which they celebrated in Lyme Regis last week.

Audrey and Will Kelland celebrated their diamond wedding anniversary at a special dinner with fellow members of the Lyme Regis Sequence Dance Club at the Woodmead Halls on Sunday evening.

Accompanied by daughter and son-in-law Linda and John, and son and daughter-in-law David and Georgina, Mr and Mrs Kelland cut a special diamond anniversary wedding cake made especially for the occasion.

Then they enjoyed a dance with club members as they have done every Sunday evening for the past 15 years.

Both members of farming families in North Devon, Mr and Mrs Kelland met at a dance at Huntsham, near Tiverton — and still go back to the villages where they did their courting every Saturday night and where they still have a large circle of dancing friends.

And this coming Saturday they will entertain their friends from North Devon at another special party at Axminster Guildhall.

The couple's actual anniversary is this Thursday and they will be having a family party at one of their daughter's homes in Dunkeswell, when they can get all their children together.

The couple have seven children, 13 grandchildren and 20 great grandchildren.

They farmed at Hockley and Hatherleigh in North Devon before moving to Axminster 25 years ago to take over the Prospect Garage in Lyme Road which is now run by their son David.

Trust argues against 'misleading' letter

THE chairman of Lyme Regis Development Trust and manager of LymeNET have spoken out after a "misleading" letter printed in the View From Lyme Regis.

Trust chairman Wendy Davies and LymeNET manager and town councillor Lucy Campbell both made statements at last week's full council meeting. They argued against a letter by development trust founder Geoff Mann (published April 11th), who questioned whether LymeForward, set up by the trust, should "hold the purse" if a Community Land Trust was set up to provide more affordable housing in the town, which was discussed at a previous council meeting.

In reply, Mrs Davies made the following statement, which was read by the town clerk, as she was unable to attend the meeting: "I would be glad if you could assure councillors that, contrary to the misleading headline and letter in last week's View From (April 11th), Lyme Regis Development Trust is not intending to run any Community Land Trust which may be set up, nor to be responsible for any of its financial holdings.

"The discussion at the

by Francesca Evans
francesca@pemedial.co.uk

March Community Development Partnership meeting was about who might manage the organisation of a preliminary meeting and perhaps oversee the setting-up process.

Under the umbrella
"As stated in the minutes, it was suggested that LymeForward should arrange a meeting in early summer to give further information to anyone interested in taking the concept forward. As chairman of the development trust, a member of LymeForward, I agreed to lead on this task 'under the umbrella of LymeForward'.

"And just to clarify what I meant by the term 'under the umbrella of LymeForward', LymeForward is a partnership of 90 organisations in Lyme and the surrounding area, including service providers such as Magna, the emergency services, health services, etc. The concept of Local Area Partnership is defined by WDDC's Policy on Support for Local Area Partnerships, and the district council's expectations and requirements are further set out in a Service Level Agreement between WDDC, Lyme Regis Town Council and Lyme Regis Development Trust.

"As the partnership has no standing in law, LRDT acts as the accountable body, receiving a grant to employ personnel to deliver on set targets.

"Today, incidentally, LRDT has accounted to WDDC and LRDC for our actions over the last year, as we are required to do every year. The monitoring criteria used and a verbal report will be made at next week's Community Development Partnership.

"So when anyone talks about operating 'under the umbrella of LymeForward', they are indicating that they - either as an individual or an organisation - are working towards a goal which has been agreed by a LymeForward meeting (papers circulated in advance to all 90 members).

"An example is the valuable work done by Philip Sankey in attending WATAG meetings on our behalf. Similarly, the town council in the person of Lucy Campbell is leading the skatepark project. It could be said that all the LymeForward projects not directly being carried out by our part-time co-ordinator Ellen Austin would have happened anyway; in many cases this is true, but the LymeForward umbrella ensures that others know what is happening, enabling them to support and assist, and for actions to be more co-ordinated and cost-effective than they would otherwise have been.

"Hopefully these benefits of partnership working outweigh the disadvantage of any confusion caused by the blurring of absolute boundaries."

No wrong-doing

Speaking later in the meeting, Councillor Campbell made reference to a comment about her in Mr Mann's letter, quoting her as saying "not to use LymeForward would be a waste of a resource", and implying she had a prejudicial interest in the subject as an employee of development trust subsidiary LymeNET.

She said: "There was no talk or intention for LymeForward or the development trust to run the Community Land Trust. I take objection to the implication in the letter in the paper that there was any wrong-doing on my part. As clearly stated on the register of interests and at the meeting I have a personal and prejudicial interest in any item relating to planning, licensing or money and as those weren't the case at the meeting I rightly stayed and discussed and voted on it.

"It's not the first time I have been accused or implied to have done some wrong-doing through the papers and through letters. I'm really fed up with this sort of passive aggressive way of attacking me and my integrity when I have done nothing wrong and only worked to improve the lives of the local community."

Councillor Rikey Austin, who was also mentioned in the letter because her sister works for LymeForward, said she would prefer that people came to meetings and discussed any issues they had with councillors rather than going through the local press.

She added: "It doesn't help to instigate this culture of blame where we are afraid to deal with the things we believe in."

The Mayor, Councillor Sally Holman, said that steps had been taken to come up with a policy to deal with similar situations in the future and this would be put to the council soon.

Councillor Daryl Turner

told Councillor Campbell not to take everything she read in the local press as "gospel", adding: "When you put your name up for election you have to get used to this type of thing. Remember this is just one person's view. We all have our ups and downs."

Getting Out and About with Bluebird Care

AT Bluebird Care we recognise that growing older can sometimes mean an increased number of obstacles when it comes to either everyday tasks or those leisure activities that put a smile on the face.

That is why we have designed our range of care at homes services to provide solutions that enable our customers to overcome these obstacles. Yes, we are specialists in providing traditional, personal care but our services have been developed to also include; shopping, visits to friends or relatives and support with leisure activities to name just a few.

The opportunity to get out and about is so valuable. Our Care Workers have their own cars and are insured to transport our customers as part of an agreed package of care. This means, for example, that we could collect a customer from their home and take them to Bridport for a morning's shopping, assist them around the shops, transport them home and put the shopping away.

That way our customers remain in complete control, selecting exactly what they want to buy while, at the same time, many of the difficulties are removed. Some of our customers enjoy a meal out and others like to experience a change of scenery. A trip to the Cobb and an assisted walk along the sea-front or support to enjoy a meal out in a favourite pub or perhaps some fish and chips can also form part of a care plan.

At Bluebird Care we recognise that the care we provide can form part of a wider supportive network for our customers and we always endeavour to keep abreast of local activities and opportunities. If some extra support was needed to attend a local art group or exercise class this, again, could all be arranged as part of a package from Bluebird Care.

Having someone to talk to, someone that really listens can also make a huge difference to a day. Celebrating good news, reliving a happy memory or just being able to halve a problem by sharing it can all have a positive impact on a person's well-being. Not only can Bluebird Care offer trips to see friends or relatives but we also provide a companionship service. A cup of tea and a chat or perhaps a game of cards can be an important part of the day and a sympathetic ear is something that we are always sure to look out for during the recruitment process.

Why not call us on 01305 230770 or visit www.bluebirdcare.co.uk/weymouth to have a chat about how a package of care from Bluebird Care could open doors for either you or a loved one to ensure that life is more about solutions than problems?

Town's main concern should be to keep visitors, not stop attractions

■ I WRITE as a day visitor from Taunton, Somerset, and am most surprised that free, fun, family activities provided by United Beach Missions that have been part of the beach for 40 years threaten to divide the community if some would be believed.

One correspondent talked of hiring a beach hut, but could only have been disturbed by an event in the performance area of Marine Parade, unrelated to the beach.

I know that people bring their children to your beach daily even from this town for the activities. Surely your main concern is to attract and retain visitors in a changing world where holiday makers visit every beach and attraction during their stay.

The improvements over the last ten years are commendable; the sand is used to create some impressive sand sculptures, the performance area has promoted a diverse range of items during Regatta and Carnival Week from different backgrounds (I presume without protest), the band performances are a good feature.

You know that your beach is busy with a high turnover of people on a sunny day but I would expect that you would like them to stay more than two hours and spend money in the town. The Lifeboat Week and Regatta and

Carnival Week are good for this but there are other weeks in the school holidays where the red shirts are the only provision.

One assumes that there must be some response to what they do, or they would not be asking permission to put their resources into your town as they are in other places. The tug of war is very popular whether or not the people engage with the other activities. This is drawing and retaining visitors to your town.

Some appear to be using their freedom of speech to prevent anyone else in a public area sharing their views if different. Much of this appears to be people chatting on a one to one. It is still legal in this country to have a view and share it. Free speech has been upheld in Taunton although the street preacher does not have the same level of support.

If the vocal minority stopped this organisation this year the question must be, would less families stay on your beach creating a loss to your town traders and would the free activities be reinstated on request?

Lilian Gill, Taunton, Somerset

What's next, close all local churches?

■ IN reply to Councillor Mark Gage's enthusiasm on banning the United Beach Missions from the beach at Lyme Regis, what is he going to do next?

As he is an atheist, is his next target going to be to close all local churches just in case their presence upsets anyone? He comes from a politically correct "tick all the right boxes" mindset, who seem to be getting their own way all the time.

Don't forget Mark, you were elected as a councillor to represent the voice of all the electorate, not just a few.

*Diana Hunt
(by email)*

Three Cups a 'blot on landscape'

■ WHILST totally sympathetic to the calls for action for Palmers Brewery to improve the overall appearance of the much neglected Three Cups, I do feel the ongoing campaign to insist that Palmers reinstate the building as a hotel to be unrealistic.

It seems quite likely that the size and structure of the building allied to its listing may well make it impracticable for it to be economically viable as an hotel. In any case, surely this is a matter for the owners who should be allowed to explore every avenue of lawful use for their building, in conjunction with the planners, English Heritage and others.

What is required is an early decision and action to restore the building and remove this ugly blot on the landscape. After all there are many buildings in Lyme, once hotels, now converted to residential and other uses.

Let us all support any reasonable conversion plans that Palmers may produce but ask that they please expedite matters as everyone's patience is being stretched to a breaking point. Stabilisation works were completed some five years ago so this can longer be used as an excuse for delay.

*Robert Hayman,
Gore Lane, Uplyme*

Support for WH Smith in Broad Street

■ I HUGEY welcome the prospect of WH Smith coming to Broad Street.

While agreeing that much of Lyme's charm is in the uniqueness of its retail offerings, we are in danger of losing sight of the fact that residents would like to be able to buy everyday items without having to trek to Axminster or Bridport.

The fact that WH Smith sees a market in this town shows that it recognises a lack of availability of non-gift goods to local people more than those already in the town who want to see us overwhelmed with quaintness and pasty shops.

Boutique café in the heart of Dorchester

THE Loft Café on Antelope Walk in Dorchester has an ethos to provide freshly made food with seasonal ingredients, and locally obtained where possible. All food is made at the café, except for the bread which is sourced from an artisan bakery, and the menu changes daily. This ensures that ingredients are always at their best and that there is minimum waste.

The Loft has a distinctly European feel as customers can enjoy something to eat or a glass of wine at anytime throughout the day. Delicious food, wine and coffee are available at all times, and the ambience is always relaxed and inviting.

Coffee lovers will be thrilled to discover that Illy coffee has been chosen specifically for its freshness and superior taste. The brand is also truly fair to its producers as they buy direct, and also boast some impressive environmental credentials.

This unique concept is the vision of owner Sally Dixon, who has live overseas and travelled extensively throughout Africa and Asia, bringing a wonderful mix of world flavours and traditional coffee shop values to Dorchester. The Loft's Supper Club begins on Tuesday 3rd April with a Nonya themed evening. This will then run on the first Tuesday of each month.

So for a delicious slice of homemade cake and a superb cup of coffee, a light flavoursome lunch with a glass of wine, or a quiet moment with a cup of green tea, The Loft Café is the place to be.

RECESSION! DEPRESSION! CAN COUNSELLING HELP?

WITH the recession biting and unemployment figures rising, for millions this is a time of heightened uncertainty and change, leading to increased anxiety and putting a strain on individuals, relationships and families.

Depression is now the number one illness which G.P.s treat and diagnose. This has led to a steady rise in clients seeking help through "talking therapies". Counselling for many people has been the answer but with NHS cutbacks across the region many residents in the south of England are now seeking a therapist through the private sector.

Client Centred Counsellor Steve Briggs has practised in Dorchester and Portsmouth, offering individuals and couples an empathic, caring approach to problem solving and healing.

Steve has seen a dramatic increase in clients and attributes this to people being more open to therapy as well as the current economic climate. Steve has a vast experience treating a whole range of issues and a list of qualifications including a B.A. in Health Studies and an Advanced Diploma in Person Centred Counselling BACP accredited.

The British Association of Counsellors and Psychotherapists (BACP) is the major governing body for Counsellors and Psychotherapists in the UK they confirm the trend that more people are willing to go to Counselling and a huge rise in the need for therapy.

So why do people come to counselling? What are the benefits?

Steve says clients centred counselling is gentle, non judgemental, supportive and can help with a wide spectrum of problems. These include past or present traumas and life changing events such as Bereavement, Divorce, Redundancy, Retirement, illness, Family and Work Related Stress.

It's no wonder that with all the challenges of 21st century life that many of us struggle. Counselling is a way forward through the confusion and pain. He added the benefits are increased awareness self confidence and self worth, greater self esteem and assertiveness.

Counselling can be helpful for everyone no matter their age background or status.

Steve has worked with a wide variety of clients including Katy Sexton (aged 30) M.B.E British International Swimmer and Athlete who says of her experience, Life takes a turn that you are not expecting, and mine did just that.

I thought I could deal with it on my own and then I cracked. I was recommended counselling but was quite sceptical about the whole process, but I felt I had nothing else to lose. It was nothing like I imagined and I am so glad to have taken that first step. Having someone have the time to listen to you and never judge you was very comforting. For the first time in a long time I felt huge relief at getting my problems out there and started to understand ways of accepting them and dealing with them. Steve was very good at making me do the work to find my own answers, but it helped me to find myself again.

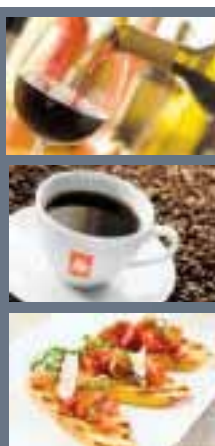

Since my therapy finished I have had other traumas in my life and am now not afraid of asking for help to deal with them, I can't thank Steve enough for his time, patience and most importantly helping me to feel like me again.

Other clients speak about how Steve's warmth, approachability, sense of humour and down to earth approach has helped them deal with a myriad of issues and be able to move on.

Increasingly people in the public eye are opening up and talking about their experiences of depression and the benefits of therapy including Stephen Fry, Ruby Wax and recently Cricketer Freddie Flintoff who has made a programme for the BBC in which other well known sportsmen talk about their personal experiences of anxiety depression and the benefits of therapy.

Steve says that he has noticed a trend whereby more men are finding it acceptable to admit that they need help and to seek it out. It is not surprising then that more people are finding their way to Steve's Counselling Room in Dorchester's high street. If you would like to know more about Steve Briggs and how he could help you or your family ring 07761 336391 for a confidential chat or check out his extensive and user friendly website. # For a beautiful new kitchen just change the doors

www.dreamdoors.co.uk

Dream Doors Dorset is a Franchise of a National Company. It is owned and run by Andy & Shelley Stewart as a family business with reliable National branding & backing. Their expert staff will help plan your work, help you decide what materials to choose and explain what will happen in your kitchen.

Andy and Shelley Stewart, last year made it to the final three in the South West and South Wales regional heats for Franchisee of the Year Awards. Says Andy: "We're delighted to have made it this far. We know there are over 37,000 franchisees in the UK, so to be considered among the best is a real honour."

By replacing the doors, drawers, and if chosen new worktops, appliances and accessories such as plinths, cornice and pelmet a completely new kitchen can be achieved.

A kitchen facelift can save you up to 50% compared to a new kitchen and of course it's more environmentally friendly. But how does this work? A door makeover saves what is not broken such as the main structure of the kitchen including the carcasses and simply replaces the visible elements you want to change. In addition Dream Doors can also assist with minor re-designs and additional carcasses through to new kitchens. So flexibility and choice is the name of their game.

Why not transform your old or dated kitchen into something fresh and attractive. You can pick a colour, any colour, a style, any style and as the doors and carcasses are made to measure non-standard sizes are not a problem.

So whether you are looking for a contemporary, traditional, or a country kitchen it can all be carried out in only a couple of days and without the usual hassle, disruption and upheaval.

Town Band celebrate
St George's Day

THOSE quintessential English anthems 'Jerusalem' and 'Land of Hope and Glory' rang out last week at the Woodmead Halls as part of the third annual St George's Day Concert by the Lyme Regis Town Band. The large and enthusiastic audience present as usual played a key part in the proceedings and enjoyed a varied programme of music.

Alan Vian was an excellent compere for the evening, one highlight of which was a dazzling performance of 'Willow Echoes' by principal cornet player Peter Hurdwell. This piece was arranged by David Baldwin, who was himself a member of the band until last year.

Following a cornet solo by Nikki Herbert of Lloyd-Webber's 'I don't know how to love him', the Training Band, conducted by Nikki, contributed excellent performances of three well-known pieces. The progress made since their formation at start of last year was evident and not surprisingly, several of its members have now graduated to the senior band.

After the break, Mary Bowles expertly led the audience sing-along in well-loved favourites, ending with 'Jerusalem'. No words were needed as the audience readily joined in with great enthusiasm.

Then to the finale – a spirited performance of 'Sussex by the Sea' followed by Edward Elgar's obligatory 'Land of Hope and Glory', featuring all available forces, band, organ, audience and not forgetting the flag waving!

Before satisfying the audience's demand for an encore of the Elgar, Musical Director John Powell thanked Alan Vian, Mary Bowles and all who had taken part, including the audience themselves.

This evening of unashamedly patriotic celebration was undoubtedly an excellent warm-up for the much anticipated Lyme Regis Diamond Jubilee celebrations in June.

SALUTING ST GEORGE | The Lyme Regis Town Band perform

Toy Hearts at the Palace

ONE of the hottest of the UK's acoustic acts right now, The Toy Hearts perform at The Electric Palace, Bridport on Thursday, May 3rd as part of an extensive tour across the UK this spring.

The Toy Hearts are a superb bluegrass and western swing band from Birmingham, UK. Since cutting their first record in 2006, the group have been one of the hottest acts emerging out of the burgeoning acoustic scene. The band is fronted by sisters Hannah and Sophia Johnson, who bring both a feminine, and British perspective, to an essentially American music. However, they keep one foot in the traditional camp by employing their father Stewart on banjo and dobro. Their reputation as an exciting and dynamic live act has developed along with their song writing prowess, culminating in the national release of 'Femme Fatale' which was recorded in Nashville, Tennessee and produced by Grammy nominee David Mayfield. The Toy Hearts have toured throughout the UK, the USA and Europe and can count new rockabilly Queen 'Imelda May', and veteran broadcaster Bob Harris amongst their fans.

By combining original song writing, sweet sister harmonies, hard driving rhythms and energetic performances, The Toy Hearts have developed a truly unique sound that leaves their audiences breathless and ready for more. A deep love for that high lonesome sound means that despite being geographically removed from the bluegrass state, the Johnson family have successfully created their own kind of sound that encompasses both Bill Monroe in Kentucky with a dash of hot club straight from the Continent.

2011 saw The Toy Hearts perform at major UK festivals, Cornbury, Bestival, Shambala and Moseley Folk. They also recorded a live BBC session with Bob Harris. "As well as producing quite possibly the finest and most authentic-sounding blend of Americana of any UK act, The Toy Hearts possess a trump card in the heart-melting voice of Hannah Johnson... With 'Femme Fatale' as a calling card, the UK Americana crown is The Toy Hearts' for the taking." R2 Rock and Reel Magazine.

Tickets are available from Bridport Tourist Information (01308) 424901, or Bridport Music (01308) 425707, or online via www.stompinstore.com. Doors open at 7.15pm, the show starts at 8pm with support from Bridport's own Stompin' Dave Allen who has organised this event. Dave who will be fresh back from a short upcoming tour of Ireland said "I'm really excited to be supporting The Toy Hearts at the wonderful Electric Palace. This is sure to be a absolute belter of a gig for all fans of great acoustic music. Don't miss this one."

TOY HEARTS | Hannah and Sophia Johnson

Beautiful concert by the Lyme Bay Chorale

LAST Saturday, the Lyme Bay Chorale presented a beautiful concert in Lyme Regis Parish Church in support of the Weldmar Hospicecare Trust. The choir started with a lively Mathias anthem "Let the people praise thee". The singers looked happy and sang with excellent balance and rhythmic precision, all eyes firmly on the conductor. They were also perfectly in step with the organ in the west gallery. This was to be the pattern for all that followed, thanks to excellent preparation by the choir's musical director Alex Davies, and superb organ accompaniment by David Bruce Payne.

The programme continued with a verse anthem by John Blow, which included the first of many beautifully sung solos by the evening's visiting soprano, Mary Morgan. It was good to hear the small Lammernuir chamber organ accompany this 18th century music, in intimate contact with the singers. Another splendid soloist, the baritone David Fouracre, then joined Mary Morgan to sing duets by Mendelssohn and Thiman, sensitively accompanied by Alex Davies on the piano. The first half concluded with Mendelssohn's "Hear My Prayer" – a grand 3 part anthem which includes the famous soprano solo "O for the Wings of a Dove". The Lyme Bay Chorale should be very proud of their performance of this anthem, faultlessly sung with wide dynamic range and clear diction.

The second half consisted of a short but moving hymn by Vierne, followed by Fauré's Requiem. It is thought that Fauré composed and revised this ever-popular work over at least 20 years before its final publication with orchestration in 1900. The version used in this concert with organ accompaniment appeared in 1888. The Requiem does not commemorate any individual or fit the liturgical pattern of the Mass, but was written, in Fauré's own words, "for the pleasure of it". Perhaps it helped restore tranquillity after the unhappy breaking of a 5-year engagement. The music seems to reflect many aspects of the composer's character – gentle, charming, generous and supportive, but with occasional hints of a hidden darker side. It is full of beautiful melodies and the harmonic twists unique to this composer. The performance last Saturday was deeply moving, with a notably fine baritone solo from David Fouracre in Libera Me.

Is there anything that this very successful concert lacked? How about one big solo organ solo to show off the magnificent lungs of the Skrabl?

The Yeomen of the Guard

May 15th-19th, Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis

Prisoner escapes

THE travelling band of players who arrived at the Tower recently have moved on leaving behind them Elsie Maynard and her working partner, Jack Point ~ a strolling jester. Elsie has been persuaded to marry a man she's never seen before but who is a prisoner in the Tower and who will be beheaded in an hour on Tower Green. She will soon become a widow but will be richer by the sum of 100 crowns for her trouble.

Unbeknown to Elsie and Point, however, plans are afoot to rescue the prisoner from his cell. Sergeant Meryll of the Yeomen of the Guard persuades his son and daughter, Leonard and Phoebe, to help him release the prisoner. He tells them that Colonel Fairfax, the prisoner, has twice saved him from certain death. Their plans work and Fairfax is released just before the hour is up, which means that Elsie is now married to a fugitive whom she knows not.

Meanwhile, Point has bragged to the Lieutenant of the Tower that he was last employed by the Archbishop of Canterbury but was fired because he offended His Grace's close family. He claims to have a pretty wit and can be merry, wise, quaint, grim and sardonic, one by one, or all at once. His chirpy nature is severely tested, however, when he learns that the prisoner has escaped for this means that his beloved Elsie is no longer single. When the head jailer, Wilfred Shadbolt is accused of releasing the prisoner, Point persuades him to concoct a cock-and-bull story of how Shadbolt shot the prisoner through the head ~ in the hope that the prisoner will be declared dead and he can continue to woo his would-be-bride, Elsie."

The above characters are all from the intriguing story written by Sir W S Gilbert and named "The Yeomen of the Guard" or "The Merryman and his Maid". Jack Point is to be played by Brian Boyt and Wilfred Shadbolt by Mike Brooks.

The music was composed by the great Sir Arthur Sullivan and is reputed to be the nearest he achieved to grand opera. Lyme Regis Operatic Society will perform this operetta at the Marine Theatre from 15th to 19th May this year. Only performed by the society six times since 1925, this production is proudly presented in the Queen's Jubilee Year under the tuition of our multi-talented Musical Director and Director, Nick Lawrence.

Poetry for Pleasure

by Frank McGarry

IT MUST have been about 150 years ago that the English novelist and poet, George Meredith wrote this ode to the robin. It was written during the autumn but of course the robin is a delight to us in every season of the year.

TO ROBIN REDBREAST

Merrily 'mid the faded leaves,
O Robin of the bright red breast!
Cheerily over the Autumn eaves,
Thy note is heard, bonny bird;
Sent to cheer us, and kindly endear us
To what would be a sorrowful time
Without thee in the weltering clime:
Merry art thou in the boughs of the lime,
While thy fadeless waistcoat glows on thy breast,
In Autumn's reddest livery drest.

A merry song, a cheery song!
In the boughs above, on the sward below,
Chirping and singing the live day long,
While the maple in grief sheds its fiery leaf,
And all the trees waning, with bitter complaining,
Chestnut, and elm, and sycamore,
Catch the wild gust in their arms, and roar
Like the sea on a stormy shore,
Till wailfully they let it go,
And weep themselves naked and weary with woe.

Merrily, cheerily, joyously still Pours out the crimson-crested tide.
The set of the season burns bright on the hill,
Where the foliage dead falls yellow and red,

Picturing vainly, but foretelling plainly
The wealth of cottage warmth that comes
When the frost gleams and the blood numbs,
And then, bonny Robin, I'll spread thee out crumbs
In my garden porch for thy redbreast pride,
The song and the ensign of dear fireside.

Richard Henry Wilde was born in Dublin in 1789 but went to America at the age of eight. He educated himself and became a lawyer, a businessman and a politician in the State of Georgia. He also translated poems from Spanish and Italian into English. This busy and talented man also found time to write some poems of his own, including this one.

TO THE MOCKING-BIRD

Winged mimic of the woods! Thou motley fool!
Who shall thy gay buffoonery describe?
Thine ever ready notes of ridicule
Pursue thy fellows still with jest and gibe.
Wit, sophist, songster, Yorick of thy tribe,
Thou sportive satirist of Nature's school,
To thee the palm of scoffing we ascribe,
Arch-mocker and mad Abbot of Misrule!
For such thou art by day—but all night long
Thou poorest a soft, sweet, pensive, solemn strain,
As if thou didst in this thy moonlight song

John Kendrick Bangs, a New Yorker by birth, became a well-known writer of humour and satire. As editor and contributor he worked for many American magazines before his death in 1922. His poems were a little more philosophical than his prose.

BLIND

Show me your God the doubter cries.
I point him out the smiling skies;
I show him all the woodland greens;
I show him peaceful sylvan scenes;
I show him winter snows and frost;
I show him waters tempest-tossed;
I show him hills rock-ribbed and strong;
I bid him hear the thrush's song;
I show him flowers in the close
The lily, violet and rose;
I show him rivers, babbling streams;
I show him youthful hopes and dreams;
I show him stars, the moon, the sun;
I show him deeds of kindness done;
I show him joy, I show him care,
And still he holds his doubting air,
And faithless goes his way, for he
Is blind of soul, and cannot see!

Senegalese kora maestro Diabel Cissokho returns to his roots with his exciting four-piece band!

SENEGALESE musician Diabel Cissokho is part of the great line of Cissokho griots. Growing up in Dakar, surrounded by a rich musical heritage and a family of musicians, Diabel began playing a number of traditional instruments. However, Diabel's affinity with the kora was clear from an early age.

Diabel's musical pedigree is exceptional. International tours with his family's band Bannaya led to a long stint as Baaba Maal's kora player, as well as with acclaimed musicians such as Kandia Kouyate, Pee Wee Ellis, Nuru Kane, Daby Balde, Omar Pene and Abdou Diop. Now well established in the UK, Diabel's virtuosic talent, his "resonant voice and rocking kora style" (Songlines), have been welcomed everywhere from WOMAD and Glastonbury to London's Barbican, where he performed alongside Femi Kuti, Cheikh Lo and Manu Dibango.

Diabel's success with bluesman Ramon Goose cemented his reputation as a versatile musician, able to effortlessly cross cultures. Their album Mansana Blues – released on the DixieFrog record label – was lauded as "a flavoursome mix of slide guitar, mellow kora and undulating Mandinka rhythms" (fRoots) which "delivers moments of steamy pleasure" (Songlines). A 2010 European tour culminated in the DNA Culture Project with Ramon, Robert Plant guitarist Justin Adams, Gambian riti player Juldeh Camara and bassist Julian Joseph at Dakar's renowned venue Just4You.

Diabel's own four-piece band features a fantastic group of UK-based musicians. Their debut album, recorded in the UK and Dakar and featuring members of Diabel's own family, is due to be released in 2012. With music that draws on Diabel's rich musical heritage, blending beautiful Mandinka melodies with an upbeat West African groove, Diabel's band guarantees to bring audiences to their feet!

Diabel Cissokho will play at the Marine Theatre on Friday, April 27th, with the band onstage at 8pm. Tickets cost £12 (£10 concessions) and are available online at www.marinetheatre.com or by calling the box office on 01297 442138.

Hear Here sees life in Lyme through young eyes

HEAR HERE is a collection of works capturing life in Lyme and the surrounding area as young people see and hear it.

This cutting edge show at the Hub opens to the public on Friday, April 27th and consists of hands on interactive installation and exhibition where people of any age are invited to come and have a go at making their own soundscapes and visual projections, see the different pictures, listen to sound bites from local people, share ideas with young people and Artists about their work and then soak up the 8.30 performance of soundscapes, song and visual projections.

Hear Here is a collaborative mixed media venture using the latest technology available, providing a forum for young people to come together and express themselves creatively as well as getting the all important work experience they need.

So many different people have contributed either independently or through workshops; B Sharp trainees & a core group of participants have been working on the show since the start, local young artists such as photographer Kai Taylor and trainee Visual Jockey Esmerelda Downing, lead artists & professional musicians Glyn Bush & Ralph Cree creating soundscapes, Andy Hawthorne Visual Artist and Sammy Hurden Vocal Coach.

The event is in partnership with the youth service and young people from Inspiration

The great news is this project is all taking place at The Hub which is a young peoples building recently opened again after ten years of closure, its going to be buzzing on Friday and this even is open to everybody..

There's also an intergenerational element where the project looks at heritage and captures stories from Roy Gollop, a highly regarded local person featuring in the exhibition. Roy was interviewed by Dom Kirtley, B Sharp trainee music leader and filmed by Graduate cameraman/director from Charmouth, Angus Johnstone

"I found interviewing Roy very interesting, when preparing for what I saw as chance to capture some sound to work with for the project, I seemed to overlook the fact that he had so many fascinating stories about the Lyme Regis i'd never seen or heard of. I was amazed by the stories of war time Lyme, and the changes that the towns undergone physically and socially since then, for example I'd never realised that the Cobb Gate and the Cobb were two segregated fishing communities! The day was very interesting and after listening through the interview again we have some fantastic story telling to weave into the soundscape of the project!

"The project overall is a new venture for B Sharp and as far as I can see it's taking the groups' skill level and creativity to a new level, using a new medium of music to convey ideas and express opinions of Lyme. The show is engaging and fascinating to look at, and the concept that all the sound has come from the town and everyday objects makes the show a really special event, with a fantastic style."

Fran Williams said This project has brought different individuals and groups of young people together as well as with older members of the community, while exploring our culture, heritage and local identity in different mediums. It's been a creative journey; a short, small, action packed project with ideas flowing and ceaseless opportunities for young people to creatively express themselves and develop skills and interests. It is about our heritage and we can already see from this experience how our follow on intergenerational project can be developed, with more time and resources we would go much deeper, capturing, passing on, and creating an archive of stories from the older generation, as well as creating new stories and works, a B Sharp project for the future.

Emma Franklin B Sharp trainee music leader of four year "Being given the role of a Lead Trainee has been fantastic, and I love the feeling of giving back to the project what it has given me over the years. The best thing about Bsharp is everyone's shared enthusiasm and passion for music, its what makes the project so unique. Its an amazing thing to be a part of! The project, Hear Here, is different to anything that has been run before since it separates out into 3 categories to target all elements of the project, this means that people can really get involved in the area(s) they are interested in, more importantly it gives people more confidence as they are in a smaller more specific groups"

Kai Taylor is a young freelance photographer whose passion is taking pictures of 'life as it happens' Kais dynamic pictures of young people on scooters, skaters, free runners, and bikes encapsulate life in Lyme and the JC through his eyes. Hear Here provides a platform to help raise the profile of Kais work which is of notable and distinctive quality. Kais pictures bring to the fore different skills and interests that young people have and just how much they are a part of community life. His work is a big part of the project and we hope will help the campaign for a skate park.

Esmerelda Pervious, a Woodroffe school student, has been walking the streets of Lyme taking pictures of faces and places - Esmerelda has been working on the visual side of the show working alongside professional visual artist Andy Hawthorne putting together the visual projections for the performance. "Im 16 and study at Thomas Hardy sixth form. Hear Here was a spontaneous decision that has let me explore dimensions with visual arts and projection mapping and I have developed artistically by being encouraged to think outside the box by everyone around in the project."

The Imagine Village to showcase brand new album at Electric Palace

THE IMAGINED VILLAGE will be showcasing their brand new album 'Bending The Dark' at the Electric Palace on Thursday, May 17th. Combining folk, electronic and world music, The Imagined Village are one of the most unusual and wonderful collaborations of the past decade. In exploring the nature of Englishness in our culturally diverse times, you can expect to hear 15th century ballads re-tuned to an electro-reggae beat or a 200 year old folk song re-imagined for the sitar.

Bending the Dark, as a title doesn't refer to trendy new Physics or even Lord of the Rings wizardry, it's really very simple: "It doesn't matter how bad things are if you pull together you can turn the situation around and come out of the darkness stronger and more confident." This exciting project brings together ten of the UK's finest musicians, all of whom play in other bands ranging from Chase & Status, Afro Celts Sound System, Cornershop, Transglobal Underground, The Bays, Dhol Foundation and Red Snapper.

The evening will also feature a special composition by bandmember Sheema Mukherjee who is one of only twelve musicians to have been selected to participate in the PRS New Music 2012, a UK-wide commissioning programme consisting of twenty new pieces of music capturing the spirit of the Olympiad, each of 12 minutes in length, celebrating the talent and imagination of the UK's musical community as part of the London 2012 Cultural Olympiad. The song provides a showcase for many of the different elements of The Imagined Village and as such the band felt this was a fitting piece to become the album's title track.

Speaking about the commission Sheema said "Since being one of the chosen composers for this project, I have begun to consider the effect that such a global event has on both communities and the individual" she went on to say that "The Imagined Village has achieved considerable recognition within UK musical culture with acclaimed festival, TV and radio performances. It seems like a brilliant opportunity to expand the horizons of this unique band through this special commission. We hope to perform it at Womad 2012 and on our April 2012 tour, giving a special premiere performance in Bridport, where the band's recording studio is based."

Vanessa Reed, Executive Director of PRS for Music Foundation says: "New Music 2012 is a central part of the Olympics celebrations and people all over the country will have the opportunity to attend a special event which celebrates the excellence and imagination of some of the UK's most exciting composers. I am thrilled that each new work will receive three premieres and be accessible to so many people through the stunning array of nationwide performances."

Catch the first live performance of 'Bending The Dark' at the Electric Palace on Thursday, May 17th. Doors open at 7pm, tickets are £15 plus booking fee in advance or £18 on the door and are available from Bridport Tourist Information Centre on 01308 424901 or online at www.seetickets.com.

Shave Cross Inn: no ordinary village pub

by Rob Coombe

Situated in the centre of the beautiful Marshwood Vale, is the famous and popular Shave Cross Inn, with its unique Shavers Restaurant, which has been serving authentic British, Modern Caribbean and International cuisine for the past 8 years. The pub has been awarded many accolades, including winning two CAMRA Pub of the Year awards for its real ales and ciders, and features in Alastair Sawday's Special Places Pubs and Inns of England and Wales as being in the top 10 best summer gardens.

They have also recently achieved the maximum Food Hygiene Rating of five from the food standards agency.

This is the one place that has a very individual character, with several tortuously narrow lanes where you can get away from it all, for people wishing to unwind, relax, chill out and recover from the stresses of modern life.

All the meals on the fine dining Menu are made fresh to order, so you can be sure of the highest quality. All the recipes and dishes have been adapted from Roy and Mel's travels around the world and especially from the Caribbean of which Tobago is their second home. Many of the ideas also come from Vatuale in Fiji where they were married, as well as the Pacific Rim, Thailand and Louisiana with its hypnotic Cajun music. Please have a look at the page opposite for a sample menu.

The fresh, and vibrant menu uses only the finest local fish, meat and produce, with all seasonings and spices coming direct from the Caribbean and the exotic fishes coming via a high class provisioner, fresh and chilled.

As well as the restaurant, The Shave Cross Inn boasts some 5 star luxury boutique accommodation, which makes it ideal to stay over and take advantage of the idyllic location. The Shave Cross House is a newly built Dorset flint stone building with beautiful stone floors and oak beams constructed in the same tradition as the 700 year old Inn.

The accommodation, comprises of 7 luxury en-suite rooms of which 3 are four-poster double bedrooms, 3 are doubles with sleigh beds, and 2 honeymoon suites. Each room has been individually designed by the owners and furnished with luxurious fittings. All rooms are en-suite, have flat-screened T.V's hairdryers and tea making facilities. The rooms are available for daily, weekly or weekend breaks; so why not spend a romantic weekend, and enjoy the delights of the unique Shavers Restaurant at the Shave Cross Inn.

headliner Iszi Lawrence

AFTER a month away the Bridport Arts Centre Comedy Cafe returns this week with another stellar line up.

The night features five new acts, all fresh onto the circuit, and a headline act who promises to round off the night in style.

Time Out recommended headliner Iszi Lawrence perfectly balances her intelligence and sharp wit with silly jokes and stories, making her a hit with every audience and promising to be the perfect act for the arts centre crowd.

Destined for big things Iszi has caught the eye of many great acts including Sara Millican, Greg Davies and Jo Caulfield who have all heaped praise on her performance. Iszi has been a London Lite Comedy Pick and reached the semi finals of the BBC New Comedy Awards and is now establishing herself as a consistently funny act across the UK.

Joining Iszi on the line up will be Craig Rance, one of the south East's brightest new open spots, Jason Manly who delighted audiences on his last visit to the comedy cafe in 2011 and Nigel Lovell who has completed more than 150 gigs in his short time on the circuit.

Completing the line up will be former Reading Comedy festival New Act of the Year James Mason, who delivers his meticulously crafted gags and monologues in his trademark deadpan and sarcastic tone, and Matt

Dyson, who likes to tackle the world of modern politics in his routine and prides himself on being the only comedian to flee an Edinburgh Fringe venue through a window chased by a man with an accordion.

Compere for the evening will be Bridport's own Tom Glover, fresh from being crowned Swanage Comedy Festival New Act of the Year and appearing in the Bath Comedy Festival final.

Tom will be testing his latest new material as well as taking a sideways look at some of the goings on in and around the town.

The April Bridport Arts Centre Comedy Café will be at 8pm this Friday, April 27th.

Tickets are available from the box office 01308 424204, £5 adults/£3 concessions.

BRIDPORT - £89,950

The period property conversion, has high ceilings and creates a spacious 1 bedroom ground floor flat with an open plan living area which includes a modern fitted kitchen and an open fire. The bedroom is also a good size and benefits from an en suite shower room and french doors to the courtyard garden. Unusually, there are both front and rear gardens to this property.

The flat is incredibly economic to run, thanks in part, to the eco friendly, air source heat pump which provides both warm or cool air as required.

This property is ideally suited to a first time buyer looking for an economic first home or perhaps a buy to let investor who can expect to get a return in excess of 6% on a long term let.

For more information please call Bridgman & Speak Estate Agents on 01308 888111 or visit www.bridgman-speak.co.uk

The Bentley Continental GTC 6.0 litre W12

- 6.0 litre W12 engine delivers supreme levels of Bentley power and performance
- Bold, contemporary, sculpted design employing advanced production technology
- Sensuous, luxurious, hand-crafted cabin with class-leading infotainment
- Coupe-like refinement with unrivalled comfort and practicality
- Up-rated chassis for a more dynamic and engaging open-top driving experience

TAKING cues from its 6.0 litre W12 GT coupe sibling, the Continental GTC builds on the highly successful foundation of the previous cabriolet, which premiered in 2006. Bentley's design and engineering teams have improved virtually every aspect of the iconic convertible with an uncompromising focus on quality.

While the original Continental GTC was elegant and understated, the sharper radii and assertive stance of the new model delivers a more contemporary and muscular presence. Advanced manufacturing techniques produce aluminium front wings without the need for seams or welds creating the look and feel of a coachbuilt car. Twenty-inch wheels are now standard with three styles of 21-inch wheel, a first for GTC, available as an option, reinforcing the distinctive, sporting stance of the new Bentley.

The four-seater luxury convertible features a new, even more spacious and sumptuous hand-crafted cabin, with soft-touch leather hides, an extensive range of wood veneers, cool-touch metals and deep-pile carpets. There are 17 standard soft-touch leather hide colours with six colour split combinations, complemented by a range of seven veneers, all produced by Bentley's talented craftsmen and women.

The GTC's renowned coupe-like refinement is also enhanced. The tailored, multi-layered fabric hood is complemented by acoustic glass and under-body panels, for optimum noise isolation.

Superb everyday practicality for a luxury convertible was a hallmark of the original GTC and much valued by its customers. The cabin of the GTC is even more practical, with additional rear legroom, new storage solutions and innovative features such as touch-screen infotainment, automatic seat-belt presenters and a Bentley-designed Neck Warmer for comfortable roof-down motoring whatever the temperature.

A wider track, front and rear, sharper steering and retuned suspension provide a more exhilarating and class-leading drive. Bentley's advanced all-wheel drive system features a new 40:60 rear torque bias (compared with 50:50 of the original GTC) minimising understeer during hard cornering and allowing the spirited driver to manage the car's line and balance via precise throttle control.

This compelling dynamic package is combined with a more powerful 6.0-litre, twin-turbocharged W12 engine as well as a new QuickShift transmission enabling faster gear changes than ever before. Power output is raised from 560 PS to 575 PS (567 bhp / 423 kW) and the famed Bentley 'wave of torque' has been increased by a further 50 Nm to 700 Nm (516 lb ft).

"The GTC has always been the most emotional model in the Continental range and a showcase for Bentley design. With its tailored soft top, the GTC is a pure British convertible true to those classic Bentleys of the past. However, the technology, performance and overall design excellence invested in this model means that we are now writing a new chapter for the Bentley convertible driver."

Wolfgang Dürheimer, Chairman and Chief Executive, Bentley Motors.

Hunter hits four as Rainbows Reserves avoid the trap door

Tuesday, April 17th
KENNY HODGES CUP FINAL
ILMINSTER TOWN A 3
LYME REGIS BANTAMS 4

at Drimpton FC
ILMINSTER Town A's proud 13-game unbeaten record was ended as Lyme Regis Bantams upset the form book to win the Kenny Hodges Cup for the first time in their long history.

The match started in amazing fashion with the Seaside's taking the lead after just five seconds! Kicking up the considerable slope at Drimpton the kick-off was rolled back to Ally Rattenbury who immediately launched a ball to the edge of the Blues' area where midfielder Tim Edwards neatly lifted the ball over the advancing Jack Richards in the Ilminster goal.

Ilminster responded and thought they had a justifiable penalty claim in the eighth minute when Paul Oliver went down in the Lyme box - but referee Phil Hartley disagreed.

In the 21st minute Kev Crouch headed over from four yards after Luke Woodard had headed the ball back across the goal from a far post position.

But the equaliser was just moments away. Oliver slid a ball into the six-yard box and this time Crouch made no mistake.

But Lyme regained the lead in the 35th minute when a Rattenbury free-kick was collected by Richards but the Blues' goalkeeper then proceeded to spill the ball after colliding with a defender and PSL top-scorer Pete Peacock pounced for his 41st goal of the campaign.

Richards atoned three minutes later with a superb point-blank save to keep out an Edwards diving header.

But the game was effectively decided by a Seaside's double-strike just moments before the half-time interval.

First, centre-back Jimmy Larcombe sent Fred Thomson galloping down the right flank with a fine angled ball. Thomson crossed for teenage winger Rhys Evans to slot home at the far post.

Soon after, an Evans volley that was heading narrowly wide took a big deflection off a defender to give Richards no chance.

Ilminster pulled one back 10 minutes after the restart when Lyme skipper Wallace Blackmore was penalised for handball and Oliver tucked away the resulting penalty.

Crouch went close again soon after when he surged through only to shoot wide when well placed.

Then substitute Rich Wilmott had an effort tipped round the post by 'keeper

Rob Thom. The Blues gave themselves some hope when Luke Woodard was felled in the area in the 75th minute and Oliver once again netted from 12 yards to complete his third hat-trick of the season.

But any hopes of Ilminster forcing extra-time were effectively ended a minute later when burly defender Mark Brown kicked-out at Thomson and was shown a straight red card.

There was still time for one last chance when Oliver's chip beat Thom but was hooked off the line by Rattenbury.

Top performers for the Seaside's were the hard working Patryk Skibinski, Edwards and defender Danny Parr who won a number of key tackles during the first-half.

Ilminster A team: Jack Richards, Gethyn Jenkins (captain), Matt Wood, Nathan Davenport, Jake Woodard, Mark Brown, Paul Oliver, Kev Crouch, Simon Manley, Luke Woodard, Ben Brister. Subs: Matt Williams, Tom Callow, Rich Wilmott, Ken Timson, Mark Brown.

Referee: Phil Hartley, Linesmen: Willie Marks and Kelvin Charles.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 18TH
SOMERSET JUNIOR CUP FINAL
ODD DOWN 2 SOUTH PETHERTON 0

SOUTH Petherton's hopes of salvaging a trophy from what, by their high standards, has been a bitterly disappointing season, ended under the floodlights at Wells City on Wednesday evening.

Opponents Odd Down scored twice in the first-half of Somerset Junior Cup Final and cruised to victory.

Pethy secretary Ray Cooper said: "We've no complaints, they were a good side, we battled hard in the second-half but couldn't break them down."

PREMIER
ILMINSTER RESERVES 1 CREWKERNE TOWN 2

BARRY Hayne and Jamie Spurdle scored the goals which look to have earned Crewkerne Town a third placed finish in the Premier division and completed a league double after a 2-1 win at Ilminster Reserves.

Top scorer Mike Whitefield netted his 12th of the season for the fast-fading Blues who slipped to their sixth successive defeat.

DIVISION ONE
SHEPTON BEAU 1 BEAMINSTER RESERVES 0
A GOAL from Will Aplin was enough to confirm Shepton Beauchamp's return to the top division after an absence of seven years.

Aplin's strike was enough to beat Beaminster Reserves 1-0 - a result which boosts Ilminster Colts' hopes of beating the drop.

Shepton's promotion was rubber-stamped by Millwey Rise thrashing Forton Rangers 6-0.

DIVISION TWO
DOWLISH & DON 4 CREWKERNE RANGERS 5
THERE was a shock result on the Dowlish slope where the hosts' slim promotion hopes were hit by a 5-4 defeat by Crewkerne Rangers.

Dowlish led 4-3 with five minutes remaining but a double-strike from Simon Denslow, the winner, a penalty came with almost the last kick of the game.

Josh Lovatt, Scott Isaacs and Liam Adams scored Rangers' other goals. Matt Vinnall, Lee Mears, Andy North and Lance Joslyn scored for the hosts who were missing regular 'keeper Jamie Lee.

The result confirms Crewkerne Town Reserves' promotion to Division One and gives real hope to Rangers, who ended a seven-game losing run, of beating the drop, alongside, Hinton back down into Division Three.

PREMIER
FARWAY UNITED 4 CREWKERNE TOWN 4
FARWAY United battled back with three late goals to salvage a point at Eastlee Park.

Visiting Crewkerne cruised to a 4-1 lead just after the hour with strikes from James Spurdle, Ed Butcher, Ben Laver and Barry Hayne.

But the late double from Ben Williams, the second a penalty, added to earlier goals from James Salter and Bradley King saw the teams end all-square.

W & M CHINNOCK 1 COMBE RESERVES 3
COMBE top-scorer Jay Stewart moved into double figures with the opener on the stroke of half-time.

Max Westlake added number two with a free-kick on the hour and Simon Vincent rounded things off three minutes from time to relegate the Chinnocks back down into Division One.

WINSHAM UNITED 9 SOUTH PETHERTON 0
BOTH teams turned up with the bare 11 at Baker's Field. The hosts were 3-0 up inside 20 minutes before Pethy lost Adam Bourne and were forced to playing the remainder of the match with 10 men.

Winsham cruised to 7-0 at the break before completing their biggest win for five years. Neil Wilmington (3), Ashley White (2), Darren Spurdle, Tim Brake, John Simmons and an OG made up the hosts' goal tally.

DIVISION ONE
BEAMINSTER RESERVES 6 BARRINGTON 2
BEAMINSTER Reserves' first win of 2012 was enough to guarantee their first division status.

The Rainbows took the lead when Josh Hunter netted from the penalty spot after Matt Tolman had been felled in the area. Hunter added a second soon after but Barrington replied through Gary Stranger after a goalkeeping blunder by first team manager Sean Annetts who was stand-in between the sticks.

Annetts had no chance when Steve Burke chipped home a fine equaliser soon after but Hunter restored the hosts' lead before the interval.

Kieran Poole headed number four before good work from Hunter set up Tolman to clinch the win. Hunter completed the half-dozen late-on.

"It was a great performance - the lads showed just what they are capable of," said Annetts who was standing in as manager in the absence of Robin Ormsby.

MILLWEY RISE 7 NORTON ATHLETIC 1
MILLWEY Rise were crowned Division One champions for the third time in their history after thrashing Norton Athletic 7-1 at Harry's Field.

Rise led 4-0 at the interval but player-manager Shane Featherstone was impressed by the visitors in the second-half, he said: "Fair play to them (Norton), they kept battling and played well after the turnaround."

Sam Dibling (2), Leo Maguire, Matt Hall, Nathan Wormesley, Ben Turner and goalkeeper Steve O'Brien netted for the Blues.

Featherstone explained that O'Brien's goal, a penalty, meant that every player in the squad found the net during the club's exceptional campaign: "It wasn't a case of us 'taking mick' - we just thought it would be nice for Steve."

DIVISION TWO
CREWKERNE RESERVES P CHARMOUTH P
PROMOTED Crewkerne Town Reserves somewhat surprisingly failed to raise a side for the visit of Charmouth.

PYMORE 1 UPLYME 1
UPLYME manager Rob Coombe took the opportunity to have a look at several Reserve teamers and in the process rested some key players ahead of Friday's Tommy Tabberer cup final.

A scrappy goal less first-half was notable for Pymore 'keeper denying Chris Matthews, up from the second-string, with three fine saves.

The move of the match resulted in Uplyme taking the lead in the 51st minute. Good interplay between Sam Jones, Tom Chapple and Matthews gave Ryan Prendeville the opportunity to fire home low into the corner from 17 yards.

Pymore went close to leveling soon after but were twice denied by goal line clearances by defender Stuart King.

But the hosts secured their point when a slip by Chapple allowed Tim Hussey to tap in from close range on the hour.

DIVISION THREE
WINSHAM UNITED RES 1 WAYTOWN HOUNDS 3
WAYTOWN ended their three-game losing slump with a victory at Baker's Field to set-up a promotion 'winner takes all' clash with

LIGHTNING STRIKE: Tim Edwards scored after five seconds for Lyme Bantams in the Kenny Hodges cup final

GOALS PREE: Josh Hunter scored four times as Beaminster Reserves avoided the drop back down into division two

ON TARGET: Rich Shill was amongst the goals as Waytown Hounds reignited their promotion push Combe A next weekend. The Hounds were playing against the wind in the first half, but still looked more like scoring and Dan Dunford hit the bar with a cracking shot from 20 yds. Despite going close on another couple of occasions, including a Danny Dunford effort that cannoned into the crossbar the first-half ended 0-0.

Winsham broke the deadlock soon after the restart before The Hounds made a slight change with Rich Shill coming off the bench and within minutes heading home a corner from Dunford to make it 1-1.

The Waytowners were now looking dangerous with every break and another Dunford corner was headed home - this time by Matt Read, who met it firmly.

The match was made safe in the dying minutes, once again Dunford the provider when he picked out Paul Watkins who hit a sweet 18 yarder into the far corner.

DIVISION FOUR
HAWKCHURCH RES 1 LYME REGIS BANTAMS 6
LYME Regis Bantams late surge towards an 11th hour promotion place continued as they hammered bottom-of-the-table Hawkchurch United Reserves 6-1.

Fred Thomson put Lyme ahead with a fierce drive in the 10th minute. Pete Peacock double the lead midway through the half before Thomson netted his second with a free-kick that took a big deflection off the Hawks' defensive wall.

Peacock smashed home his 43rd Bantams goal of the season on the hour before the hosts pulled one back via a Steve Harding penalty following a foul by Seaside's skipper Wallace Blackmore.

Thomson went on to complete his hat-trick and player-manager Chris Simpson rounded off the half-dozen.

West Bay Sea Angling club

Chidzoy is Chesil champ

DAVE Chidzoy bagged almost 3kg of wrasse and rockling to take the West Bay Sea Angling Chesil Championship and also pocketed £435 by winning the superpool.

The event, held on April 15th, attracted 115 competitors fishing on a bright but chilly day with a rising tide.

The boundaries for the event were from East Pier at West Bay to the flagpole at West Bexington.

Plenty of plaice and dabs were caught on the clean ground to ragworm baits, but it was Chidzoy, fishing from Burton reef who took the top prize.

Dave Lane won the heaviest flatfish pool and Chris Clarke the heaviest round fish pool, both collecting £112 for their efforts.

The club would like to thank all the competitors and Freshwater Caravan Park for the use of their facilities and the hall for the presentation.

1st: Dave Chidzoy 2910grms 9 wrasse 6 rockling, 2nd: Rob Marshall 2390grms 12 wrasse, 3rd: Chris Clarke 2090grms 8 wrasse 4 rockling, Heaviest round fish pool: Chris Clarke wrasse 890grms, Heaviest flat fish pool: Dave Lane plaice 840grms, Top junior: Keiran Ellison wrasse, Ladies prize: Frances Kitchin.

A few dogfish and bullhuss were caught and, with seven different species, weighed-in including a flounder for Frances Kitchin. Ragworm tipped with mackerel proved a good all round bait.

Mister Matt fails at final fence

IN RACING there are no certainties, writes Stuart Broom.

And so it proved for the locally-based Bob Buckler stable at Cheltenham last Thursday when Mister Matt under the guidance of Nathan Sweeney came to the last fence 10 lengths clear of his only rival still standing.

With both horses tiring in the two mile BetVictor Conditional Jockeys' Handicap Chase, the nine-year-old only had to jump the fence to secure victory and an £8000 prize when he crumpled on landing, handing the race to the only finisher Cruchain who won for the second year running.

The Buckler horse had made all the running and looked a certainty to win as three of his rivals fell leaving just the two to battle it out.

Buckler said: "He was tired, as they all were, and he may have been slightly distracted by a loose horse, but all he needed was a good, strong presentation at the last.

"He put in a short stride and needed some help, but without it he caught the top of the fence and fell."

Buckler's only other runner Ethiopia ran a good race in the Molson Coors Marathon Handicap Chase over 3¼ miles at Exeter earlier in the week, finishing fourth behind the impressive Sea Saffron.

Despite James Best claiming 5lb, Nick Elliott's horse was still carrying 11st in trying conditions and over a longer distance than normal.

"The handicapper made it difficult for him. It was a big weight to carry, but he ran a good race over a distance that is just a bit too long for him.

"James took him to the front coming up the steep hill on the back straight to try and break the rest thinking that he would stay on. But it took too much out of him and he weakened coming home."

The stable have only one runner this week; Double Dizzy who will be competing in the La Touche Cup over the cross country course at the Punchestown Spring Festival on Thursday.

The 4¼ mile race worth €30k, is similar to the Cheltenham Festival course involving a variety of different types of fences which the veteran 11-year-old has already raced over five times in his career.

Legg squeezes home in classic encounter

ANNIE Legg regained her Club Singles title after reigning champion Ann Turtlee 21-20 in a classic match writes Brian Baker.

It had everything, probably the finest drawing match ever seen at the club, swinging one way then the other. Turtlee had one hand on the trophy as she led 20-19, Legg then picked up the jack with her final wood on the next end to claim one shot, on a measure, to square it 20-20, before edging it on the final end.

Bill Payne teamed up with Legg to win the Four Wood Mixed Pairs 18-15 against Melody Watts and Roy Lidington, who was celebrating his 84th birthday.

Legg looked on course for a triple success as she contested the Ladies Pairs final with Edna Cumberland against Watts and Barbar Iversen. They were 12-7 ahead after 12 ends, before Watts hit a purple patch to show why she has been outstanding this year and ably backed up by Iversen they finished 2,1,1,1,3 for the win.

Mel Griffiths & Bob Taylor recorded a fine double success winning the Club Pairs 20-17 and respectively. Rumble won the Mens Singles Title 21-2 against David Conroy who must have felt like the Titanic being hit by an iceberg and with Margaret Clapp won the Two Wood Pairs title 19-18, thanks to a last end three-count over Margaret Pestelle & Ivor Parker.

A strong finish by Parker & Brian Conisbee saw them defeat Brian Galpin & Ken Giles 23-10 in the Mens Pairs.

Finally, Turtlee & Steve Way won the Mixed Pairs Plate final 21-12 against Galpin & Clapp.

RUGBY - REVIEW OF THE SEASON

WITH KEITH JENKIN

Windsor assignment looms large

THE 2011/2012 rugby season is over for local clubs, with one very notable exception. DORCHESTER, who made a very late run indeed, have secured themselves a play-off place against WINDSOR of the Southern Counties (North) Division.

The game will take place at Windsor on April 28th, with the winners gaining a place in the South West Division One (East).

Some six weeks ago Dorchester, who were enjoying a pretty good season, were lying around fourth in the Southern Counties (South) league table, and were, many people felt I suspect, just out of the promotion race.

At That juncture I certainly felt that North Dorset and Sherborne had the bouquets sewn up between them.

Few could have predicted Sherborne's implosion. They lost their last three games, all to teams in the lower half of the division, and were edged out at the last by Dorchester who won five out of their last six, and took a vital losing bonus point from champions, North Dorset in the sixth.

The question remains, how will they fare at Windsor and, if they are successful, how will they fare next season?

My guess is that they will be competitive at Windsor. Their pack is dominating opposition eights currently. They have a bit of pace and talent out wide, a sensible goal kicker and they showed against North Dorset that they are quite capable of "dogging it out".

As to next season, let that look after itself for the time being. All a club can ask when the season starts is that it can be involved up to and including the season's final game. Dorchester have certainly done so this season, and congratulations are due to them.

After a bad season in 2010/2011 that saw them slip down into the Dorset & Wilts League Division Three (South), the Dorchester second side has roused itself and bounced back as champions at the first attempt by winning 13 of its 18 league games.

It has been demonstrated time and time again that the well being of a club on the field is very much attributable to the performance of its second side, and Dorchester seconds have certainly done all that has been asked of them this last season.

The WEYMOUTH first side, while wishing its rivals from just up the road every success in their play off endeavours, will probably see a positive emerging if all does not go well for them.

Weymouth have been existence for some 140 years, and have celebrated that fact by winning the Dorset & Wilts League Division One (South).

The club's first XV will now be playing Southern Counties rugby in September, with the prospect of a local derby if Dorchester remain in the division. The have also won the Dorset & Wilts Junior Cup.

I have long regarded the Weymouth club as the sleeping giants of local rugby and moreover have felt that they have had, within their ranks the constituent parts of a successful side.

This season they have begun to play with a pattern with which most of their opponents have struggled to cope.

They have lost just three times, all in the earlier part of their campaign, and have amply avenged these narrow defeats subsequently.

In fact they were confirmed as champions with a couple of games still to be played and won the division with some comfort in spite of a very considerable injury list.

They will realise of course that a considerable gap in standard exists between the old division and the new, and they will certainly have to keep working at it.

If they do so and remain injury free in the main next season, I can see them making something of a mark in the higher division.

I watched them play a national cup round against Drifters however, and felt that they were a little naive tactically on that occasion. They will certainly have to learn from that experience.

Midway through the 2010/2011 season the Weymouth second side, who had been trundling around in the Dorset & Wilts League Division Three for several place in division four.

It generally put a side out however, sometimes not an easy thing to do in view of the amount of travelling involved. It didn't win too many but it will be a better side for the experience.

The BRIDPORT first side started the season in disarray rather, it having failed to cope with life in the Southern Counties (South) Division and having been relegated from it the previous April.

Their season has therefore, been one of consolidation and, although progress has certainly been made, it has often been a case of "a step forward, and a step back".

They finished the season in the bottom half of the division, but I do think that they are a better side now than they were at the season's start.

Looking at their league record over the season it certainly gave the impression that they were beating sides towards the end of their campaign who had bested them earlier.

I think that they managed to put a fair few building blocks in place, as it were, and that they will look forward to next season with more confidence than they did in September last.

When the first side of a club is in the doldrums, that fact is usually impacted on its second side, and this was certainly the case with Bridport seconds.

Having been relegated into division three, it often struggled to raise sides to travel to away games and, as a consequence, ended the season just out of the relegation zone. It did gather one or two scalps along the way, but lacked consistency.

PUDDLETOWN are a club that are considerably further along the rebuilding road than Bridport.

They suffered a body blow before any one had kicked a ball in anger however, losing influential captain and number eight, Paul Chidley to an injury that kept him sidelined for all the season.

They did not spend much time pondering as to just what might have been however, but rolled up their sleeves and got on with competing in the Dorset & Wilts league Division Two (South).

A measure of the progress made during the campaign could be measured by a glance at their results obtained against Poole whom they played on both the first and last Saturdays of the season.

Back in September they came out on top by a single point while, in April they cruised to a bonus point win.

They always tried (and often succeeded) to play open rugby, for their back division was their strength, and they ended the season in the division's fourth place (one place above Weymouth seconds).

They certainly strengthened their squad as the season progressed and have one or two "young pups" coming through into the ranks.

Next season could be an interesting one for them and they will most certainly be looking forward with optimism.

Overall the 2011/2012 has been a good one as far as the local rugby scene is concerned. There have certainly been more triumphs than disasters.

Kit will now be stowed in the back of garages (hopefully laundered). Some will play cricket or undertake some other summer pursuit.

Then, sometime in July, boots will be searched out and people will be preparing to do it all over again. Summer well! I'll probably see you then!

seasons, roused itself, strung a series of wins together and notched a promotion place in the final weekend of the season.

They entered division two, "in fear and trembling" rather, with the avowed intention of not slipping back.

In the event their fears proved groundless for, in spite of the club's long injury list, they ended the season in the division's mid table.

The Weymouth third side entered league rugby for the first time, taking its

Dorchester U9s show promise

DORCHESTER Rugby club's under 9s played host to North Dorset this weekend and more than held their own against the bigger club despite only coming away with one win out of the three games.

The first two matches were close affairs with both teams playing flowing, running rugby showing that they had developed enormously since meeting early on in the season, when rucking and mauling were still part of the under 9s game.

Dorchester moved the ball brilliantly and produced some great direct running at their opposition leading to well earned tries.

The defensive line also held up pretty well but sadly wasn't quite strong enough to stop the visiting side winning the first match by a narrow 5 tries to 6.

Game two was another exciting affair with some big hits going in from both teams, but Dorchester had the edge and showed more spark and determination in attack allowing them to run-in 5 tries to 3.

By the third game, both teams started to look a little battered and bruised and were clearly slowing down.

Despite a strong first-half from Dorchester, North Dorset managed to gain the late advantage and ran out winners by seven tries to four.

BANTAMS COMPLETE HISTORIC TRIPLE

LYME Regis Bantams completed what has been a history making season for town's football club with a superb 4-3 victory over Ilminster Town A in the final of the Kenny Hodges Cup on Tuesday evening.

The result means each of the Seaside's three teams has picked up silverware in the same season for the first time ever.

Tuesday's match was incident packed literally from the first blast of referee Phil Hartley's whistle as Tim Edwards clipped Lyme in front with a neat chip with just five seconds on the clock. League leaders Ilminster leveled but further goals from Rhys Evans, Pete Peacock and an OG put the Seaside's in control at the interval.

On Saturday the Bantams kept alive their hopes of snatching a division four promotion spot with 6-1 thrashing of Hawkchurch United Reserves.

Fred Thomson bagged a hat-trick for the team who now know that four wins from their four remaining fixtures will see them back up into Division Three.

by Howard Larcombe
howard@pemedi.co.uk

First up is probably the most difficult – a trip to the Recreation ground on Thursday for a rematch with already promoted Ilminster Town A. This is followed by Saturday's visit by Combe B.

Uplyme continued their build-up for Friday's big Tommy Tabberer cup final by earning a useful point with Ryan Prendeville on target in a 1-1 draw at Pymore.

Uplyme manager Rob Coombe has named the following squad for Friday's game when they come up against Dowlish & Donyatt: L.Cleal, P.Sampson, C.Plevey, S.King, G.White, J.Chapple, M.Taylor, T.Chapple, G.Matthews, R.Prendeville, A.Neale, S.Jones, J.Beddows, S.Gillan, G.Fowler (captain), C.Matthews, J.Davies.

Meanwhile Charmouth were left without a fixture when scheduled opponents Crewkerne Reserve were surprisingly unable to raise a side.

Lyme Regis first team have two matches to play as they attempt to go unbeaten in their successful quest for the Premier Division title. First up is a trip to Ilminster Town Reserves tonight.

This is followed by Saturday's visit to Henhayes when the team will be presented with the League Championship trophy after their final game against Crewkerne Town.

◆ Lyme Regis u14s moved through to the semi-finals of the Dorset League Cup after beating League Champions Dorchester Town 2-0.

Declan Ellis scored both goals for the young Seaside's who travel to either Sturminster Newton or Sturminster Marshall in next Sunday's semi-final.
